SIX GREEKS MEET DEATH FOR LOSS OF ASIA MINOR

Britain Breaks Off Relations With Athens Govt.

SHOOT OFFICIALS

Two Premiers, Ministers And Generals Are Executed

(Reuter's Service)

Athens, Nov. 28.—The British Minister has notified the government that Britain has broken off relations with Greece.

Athens, Nov. 28.—The trial of ex-Cabinet Ministers and officers in connection with the Greek debacle in Asia Minor concluded today. M. Gounaris and Stratos, ex-Premiers, Protopapadakis, ex-Minister of Finance, Theotokis, ex-Minister of War, Baltazzi, ex Foreign Minister, and General Hadjianestis were sentenced to death and Admiral Goudas and General Stratigos to imprisonment for life and degradation.

M. Gounaris, who was Premier from April 1921 to May 1922 when he was succeeded by M. Stratos, was unable to attend the later stages of the Athens trial as a consequence of his suffering from typhoid fever.

The news of the sentences has created a lamentable impression. Authoritative circles in London have pointed out that the action of the military extremists is likely seriously to affect Greece as it will alienate the moral and financial support of the Great Powers.

Later—M. Gounaris, Theotokis, Baltazzi, Protopapadakis, Stratos and General Hadjianestis have been shot.

The Court-Martial has also inflicted the following fines.

M. Gounaris 200,000 drachmae, M. Stratos 355,000 drachmae, M. Protopapadakis 500,000 drachmae, M. Baltazzi 1,000,000 drachmae, M. Theotokis 1,000,000 drachmae and Admiral Goudas 200,000 drachmae.

EXECUTIONS OUTRAGEOUS

London, Nov. 29.—The Greek executions are unanimously condemned by the morning papers as outrageous, brutal and medieval though the papers are divided regarding the wisdom of severing relations.

It is reported from Athens that the court martial's decision was unanimous. General Hadjianesti and the five ex-Ministers were shot five hours after the sentence was pronounced.

Before they faced the firing party the General was solemnly degraded. His badges of rank were cut from his uniform and his sword broken. Communion was administered. All the bodies were subsequently taken to the cemetery and handed over to the relatives.

The British Minister continued his efforts to secure clemency to the last. He visited the Foreign Office twice yesterday evening and went to the revolutionary chief, M. Plastiras, in the middle of the night, without avail.

(Reuter's Service)

Lausanne, Nov. 28.—The news of the Greek executions has caused consternation among the delegates to the Lausanne Conference, including the Greeks.

It is understood that the British Minister is leaving Athens forthwith.

Athens, Nov. 29.—The British Minister has notified the Government that Britain has broken off relations with Greece. He will leave tonight.

Sees Prosperity Perch In East For Home Goods

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 28.—Sir Edwin Stockton, M. P., in an address on the conditions in the cotton trade and the effects of foreign competition at the Manchester College of Technology today, said that he considered that prospects had improved in India and a reasonable amount of optimism was justifiable.

China and the Near East showed a promise of returning to normal conditions. Dear goods were gradually being liquidated and stocks of English textiles held there were but small.

Rose Pastor Stokes In Radical Plot?

Rose Pastor Stokes

ROSE Pastor Stokes, New York socialist with a millionaire husband, is alleged by Federal authorities to be involved in a plot of radicals unearthed in a raid at Bridgeman, Mich., which resulted in the arrest of William Z. Foster and other radicals. Mrs. Stokes was convicted in Kansas City in June, 1918, under the Espionage act.

FRANCE MAY ANNEX RUHR TO MAKE THE GERMANS PAY

Officials Deny It, But Stringent Plans Are Afoot

LAW HEDGES IT

British Premier Shies At Hypothetical Question

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Nov. 28.—Stringent coercive measures against Germany with a view to enforcing reparations were considered by the Cabinet yesterday, presided over by M. Millerand and at which Marshal Foch and M. Barthou, President of the Reparations Commission, were present.

Although no official information is yet available regarding the exact schemes considered, it is understood that one alternative discussed was further occupation of the Rhenish territories in order to guarantee the due deliveries of coal and coke for French industries. The measures are contemplated in the event of failure to secure an adequate reparations settlement at the coming Brussels Conference.

London, Nov. 28.—In the House of Commons today replying to a question Mr. Bonar Law said that he had no information to justify him in saying that French occupation of the Ruhr was imminent. He was unable to answer the hypothetical question as to whether the British Government would morally or militarily support such occupation (Ministerial cheers).

The questioner then drew attention to the rumors in the press that occupation was imminent. Mr. Bonar Law replied that no steps of any kind in that direction had yet been taken.

Paris, Nov. 28.—Official circles categorically deny that yesterday's meeting at the Elysee discussed the possible occupation of two-thirds of the Ruhr including Essen and Bochum, and the annexation of the occupied territory on the left bank of the Rhine.

Forged Bank Notes In Circulation

The Bank of Exchange inserted an advertisement in the Sin Wan Pao yesterday to the effect that forged $10 notes of the bank were in circulation.

According to the advertisement the ink used on the forgeries is thicker than on the original and the signature poorly made and so soft it can be rubbed off. The word 'bureau' in English on the back of the note is also misspelled as 'bereau.'

A. C. Mack Acquitted Of Liquor Larceny Charges

After deliberation of twenty minutes the jury in the British Supreme Court yesterday returned a verdict of acquittal for Arthur Charles Mack, charged with larceny of liquors, barrels and beer cases belonging to Giesel and Co.

The verdict followed further cross-examination of the defendant by the Crown Advocate, Mr. C. P. Wilkinson, in which Mack further accused Giesel of being aware of the making and sale of spurious liquors. Mr. Wilkinson was assisted by Mr. P. W. Golding, while the defendant was represented by Mr. J. O. Andersen and Mr. Tycho Wing.

The cross-examination in part follows:

"You heard the evidence of Giesel that you spoke to him about relabelling and mentioned the figures. You now say that there were letters from the bank. Did you take any steps to produce these letters?"—"Giesel told me that he went to the bank: a letter had been filed. This letter was one of confirmation. The negotiations were made by me on behalf of Giesel, and this was the confirmation. I had given notice to the bank to produce that letter."

"When did you join Giesel?"—"I worked for Giesel from my residence on March 14. I was working for him in conjunction with Reids, Ltd. I shifted to him in April. Giesel's market shroff used to come every morning and we were actually selling. I purchased from Reids and sold to Giesel. The purchases included Sunnybrook whisky, port wine, etc."

BOUGHT FOR SELF

The Judge: "It is rather an extraordinary proceeding for a receiver to buy and sell?"—"I bought them on my own behalf. The receiver's duty was to sell the goods, and I saw the opportunity of making money. I sold to Giesel at cost. I suggested that Giesel should sell his goods in parcels and not lots."

The Crown Advocate: "Please explain to me about these 227 cases. How did you know it was bad Noilly Prat vermouth?"—"The Chinese-American Bank informed me. They received a letter from Rondon."

"You never knew that when you were at Reids?"—"I heard, but I was not allowed inside the godown."

"You had personally nothing to do with the stretching?"—"I did not. I am a teetotaller. They kept it a secret and were afraid."

"Reids did not make a success

WU'S EMISSARY TO REPORT ON PEKING SNARL

Impeaching Of Koo Seen As Sinister Plot By Newspaper

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 29.—General Li Chi-chen, General Wu Pei-fu's Chief of Staff, arrived in Peking yesterday morning and left for Loyang yesterday evening, after inquiring into the political situation. Chinese hope that his report to General Wu will lead to some definite action.

Meanwhile, Peking is carrying on comfortably without a Government but high officials realise that the dislocation of international relations may lead to an awkward situation at any moment.

The Chinese press hints that General Tsao Kun wants Mr. Kao Ling-wei to become Acting Premier pending the formation of a permanent Cabinet by Dr. W. W. Yen. Mr. Wang Tah-hsieh is also mentioned as a possible candidate.

The Hsingpao comments caustically regarding the so-called impeachment of Dr. Wellington Koo, who, the paper declares, performed with yeoman service for China in the three international conferences, and sees behind Parliament's action a sinister influence from abroad.

Dr. C. T. Wang, Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Mr. Kao Ling-wei, Minister of Home Affairs.

Mr. Liu Shih-yung, Minister of Justice.

Mr. Li Ken-yuan, Minister of Agriculture and Commerce.

Mr. Feng Yun-yi, Minister of Education.

Mr. Wang Ta-hsieh, Premier and Minister of Finance.

Ministers of Communications, the Navy and War are the same as the personnel of the preceding Cabinet.

PARLIAMENT IS TO FIX CHOP ON FOREIGN LOANS

All Others Invalid Say Members Of House To Diplomats

(China Press Service)

Peking, Nov. 28.—Wu Ching-lin and Chang Pah-lieh, Speaker and Vice-Speaker of the House of Representatives respectively, have addressed a communication to the Diplomatic Corps, to the effect that hereafter no foreign loans concluded between the Government authorities and foreign capitalists will be valid, unless the approval of Parliament has first been obtained.

The Diplomatic Corps views such a communication as a departure from the ordinary diplomatic procedure and has decided to return it to the House of Representatives.

Judge Lobingier Leaves For Nanking To Deliver Address

Judge Charles S. Lobingier, of the United States Court for China, and Mrs. Lobingier, left Tuesday night for Nanking where they will be the Thanksgiving guests of American Consul Davis and Mrs. Davis.

Judge Lobingier will deliver the Thanksgiving Day oration at the annual banquet to be given by the Nanking community today.

Associated Press Chief Is Feted On Eve Of Departure

Mr. Frank B. Noyes, President of the Associated Press of America and publisher of the Washington Star sailed early this morning, accompanied by Mrs. Noyes, for Hongkong on board the President Jackson of the Admiral Oriental Line after a day filled with engagements.

Early yesterday morning Mr. Noyes had a conference with Dr. Sun Yat-sen over the present political unrest in China; he was the guest of honor at a tiffin given by Mr. Herbert Webb, publisher of The China Press at the American Club; he was entertained by the staff of the Sin Wan Pao at a tea reception, and later received a visit from Dr. Alfred Sze, Chinese Minister to Washington, who returned yesterday morning on board the President Jackson; and later attended a dinner in his honor given at the Great Eastern Hotel by the Association of Chinese Newspapers in Shanghai.

The following address was read by Mr. Wang Han-chi, President of The Association of Chinese Newspapers of Shanghai and managing editor of the Sin Wan Pao. The interepretation was read by Mr. Sze Chin-chen. A framed copy of the address in Chinese was presented to Mr. Noyes as a momento of the occasion.

"Mr. Noyes, ladies and gentlemen, fellow journalists:

"In the name and on behalf of the hosts, the members of the Association of Chinese Newspapers of Shanghai, the Sin Wan Pao, Eastern Times, National Herald, Chung Hua Times, Republican Daily News, Hsin Shun Pao, Shanghai Journal of Commerce and China Evening Post, I extend a hearty welcome to the guest of the evening, Mr. Noyes. I am sure that in so doing I am supported by the keenest enthusiasm and the deepest feeling of the great gathering tonight. As most of you are aware Mr. Noyes has been for the last 25 years and still is the President of the Associated Press. In addition, he is the President of an influential journal widely circulated in Washington and known as The Evening Star. So, you see, Mr. Noyes is not only a journalist, but a purveyor of news to his fellow-journalists throughout his country.

"His position is one of very great responsibility and importance. It is by him or through him that news of the whole civilised world is distributed amongst thousands of papers. It is by him or through him, that the different parts of his country are brought into touch with the rest of the world. During the sessions of the Washington Conference, Mr. Noyes' organ contributed in no small measure to the results which were achieved. The publicity given to the Chinese national cause by the Associated Press during that critical time was a substantial factor in arousing public opinion and towards the recognition of the justice of our claims.

INFLUENCE OF PRESS

"Mr. Noyes' Evening Star has legions of subscribers and a circulation which we all may envy. There is no better proof of the popularity of his paper than the fact that it has a net daily circulation of 90,000 copies. This great influence, gentlemen, will, I am convinced, be used for the advancement of the higher interests of all mankind, and for the putting of an end to mutual destruction and of interstate aggression. It is on the co-operation of Mr. Noyes and the assistance of the enlightened organs of public opinion in his country that we should most rely for creating that public opinion which will do justice, not only to itself, but to the principles or right and fair-play without which the whole world would collapse into a state of chaos.

EFFECTS OF WAR

"It has been said that the press is a trustee of public welfare. I will go one step further, and say that recent developments demand that the press should undertake the additional function of diagnosing and giving an accurate description of such symptoms as

HUGE AIR PLAN ANNOUNCED IN FRENCH BUDGET

1,800 Million Francs will Go For Aviation In New Budget

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Nov. 28.—The Chamber of Deputies today began the debate on the budget for the Air Ministry.

The deputy, M. Fonck, explained general position of aviation since the armistice. He said that France had devoted 1,400,000,000 francs (?) to military aviation and 400,000,000 francs to civil aviation.

The former Under-Secretary of State for Air, M. Flandin, discussing the problem of aerial communications, declared that the Government ought to study as soon as possible the aerial route, connecting France and French West Africa, which later might connect French West Africa with South America.

PLAN BRAZIL LINE

The line would connect Dakar Brazil and the Argentine, when mails for South America could arrive in 5 or 6 days. French commerce and industry would receive from this a considerable impulse. The speaker then compared the credits devoted to French aeronautics with those for the same purpose in the United States and Britain and showed that those two nations spent much more than France.

M. Flandin then replied to the accusations made against France who was taxed with imperialism, of wishing to crush her neighbors under a mass of aeroplanes by secretly preparing a formidable army of the air. The speaker emphasised the necessity of the construction of war aeroplanes on of commercial aeroplanes which could be transformed into war aeroplanes and spoke of the facility with which Germany could establish a powerful aerial army.

M. Flandin added: "So long as Germany has not given proofs of her pacific intentions, all manufactura of aeroplane material should be forbidden her or at least the number of her machines should be limited. Germany is anxious to retain her liberty in the domain of aeroplantics. At the end of 1923 there will no longer be any control over her manufactures."

THREAT MADE ON LIFE OF GOLDENBERG; FEARED DEATH

Poisoned Dagger Thrown At Ricsha, Is Story Told By Friends

FUNERAL HELD

Police Scout Theory That A Picture Of Crime Was Made

Numerous threats against the life of Mr. Bernard Goldenberg, General Manager of the Ramos Amusement Company, who was murdered in his apartments over the Victoria Theater sometime Sunday night, have been made in the past, and at least one attempt on his life was made only three weeks before he was murdered, according to information unearthed yesterday by police in their continued investigation of the mysterious circumstances connected with the slaying of the theater manager.

Someone unknown attempted to kill him just three weeks before his murder by throwing a poisoned dagger at the ricsha in which he was riding, according to one story told yesterday. The dagger fell at Mr. Goldenberg's feet in the ricsha and he told several friends of the incident when he returned to the theater. Mr. A. Ramos, head of the amusement company which operates the Victoria, Olympic, Empire and two Chinese theaters, was one of the friends who was supposed to have been present when Mr. Goldenberg told of the attempt on his life, but he denied that he knew anything of the attempt last night.

FEARED DEATH

It was definitely learned, however, that Mr. Goldenberg had expressed his fears of being murdered on several occasions and that threats against his life had been made because of disputes growing out of business transactions and for other reasons.

While funeral services were being held for the victim of Shanghai's most baffling murder mystery at the Jewish Cemetery on Baikal Road yesterday afternoon investigators from the headquarters staff of Chief William Armstrong definitely exploded one fantastic myth in connection with the murder which had gained considerable credence.

The funeral services were conducted by Rabbi W. Hirsch of the Ohel Rachel Synagogue, and Dr. Charles G. Irons, Senior Warden of the Shiim Masonic Lodge, in an impressive manner. A large crowd of Mr. Goldenberg's friends were in attendance at the services and many wreaths were sent. Mrs. Goldenberg, his wife, was not present, but his aged mother attended. The mother had not been told that her son was murdered until just before the funeral, postponed from the day before at the last minute because of a new theory developed by the police.

Wreaths were sent by the Filipino Club, M. M. Nonato, A. Barr, Mr. and Mrs. L. Ladow, R. L. Ellis, A. Popovich, Joseph Zucker, George E. Weis, J. Sanchez, Mr. and Mrs. N. Krells, Y. S. Chong, G. Calavitis, J. Aguado Reyes, Mr. Riell and family, Paul S. Crawley, Sat. Eskenazi, G. Candel, Carmen and Elenita Rodrigues, Mr. and Mrs. Lauro, Nomad Oasis, D. G. Chelmis, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kentwell, Mr. G. Canda and family, The Ramos Amusement Company, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Abolitiz, Jewish Club Ahduth, B. Negro, S. Sanft, D. P. de Tagle, A. Ramos and family, A. M. Tracey Woodward, Sahli Skinner, J. Marques da Silva and Family, L. Haim, A. Lafuente Ga. Roje, J. F. Takaki, H. D. Tsung, Francisco Corral, A. Cohen, Chinese staff of The Ramos Amusement Company, L. Irure, and many others without cards.

FANTASTIC THEORY

At the funeral services, which police attended on the long chance that the old detective story theory of a murderer attending the funeral of his victim through morbid curiosity might come true, the story gained credence that Mr. Goldenberg, having a premonition that he would be killed, had purchased a moving picture machine and installed it in his apartments. The machine, it was said, was so set up that when he entered the room and switched on the lights, the electric current automatically operated the machine and took a moving picture of everything in the room.

Some fantastically inclined minds even went so far as to assert that when, as it is assumed, Mr. Goldenberg stepped into his room, turned on the lights, and was struck on the back of the head by his murderer, or murderers, the camera recorded a photographic scene of his death scene.

Although the entire theory was believed to be the fabrication of a hair-brained dreamer Chief Armstrong, who is not overlooking a single move in his attempt to run down the murderer or murderers, ordered a systematic search to be made of the room. No moving picture devices of any kind were found in the room, and no one was found who could substantiate rumors that Mr. Goldenberg had ever spoken of such a strange and fantastic after-death accuser. If Mr. Goldenberg ever made statements that he had such a device in his room it is thought he did so to frighten off any who had made threats against his life.

STICKS BY STORY

The two Indian watchmen were questioned by police again yesterday and the one who slept at the front door stuck to his assertion that he had seen Mr. Goldenberg leave the theater between 6 and 7 o'clock on Monday morning when he handed him a telegram. The Indian watchman's assertion has proved the most damning particle of evidence that has been secured by the police for it is contradictory to the one seemingly logical theory of the murder—that Mr. Goldenberg was murdered the moment he stepped into his room after leaving Mr. Paul S. Crawley and Mr. A. Rangel in the theater lobby.

The Indian watchmen asserted that he was well acquainted with Mr. Goldenberg, that he knew his appearance and voice, and could not be mistaken in saying that he had seen him leave the theater at that hour. Investigation of his statement that he had handed Mr. Goldenberg a telegram or to have seen him go out revealed that no telegraph or cable company in Shanghai delivered a message at the theater that night. It was impossible to check up on chits or letters.

THE MURDERER

More minute examination of the club with which Mr. Goldenberg was killed reveals that it was in reality of light weight and as the rain of blows that caused his death were struck downward the murderer must have been almost as tall as Mr. Goldenberg, and of sufficient strength to strike a death blow with a light club.

Investigation is said to bear out the theory that a woman was in some manner implicated in the murder. Whether she was an acquaintance of Mr. Goldenberg's who was aware of the fact that he wore two valuable diamond rings and carried a considerable amount of money with him who laid in wait with the actual murderer until the theater manager entered his room, or whether it was some woman actuated by revenge who induced hirelings to commit the murder, is not known, although police are understood to be continuing their investigation in certain quarters.

Detective Inspectors Reeves, Prosser and Cruickshanks, of the Headquarters staff, who are in charge of the investigation with a number of able assistants are continuing their probe into the mysterious circumstances surrounding the crime through a process of deduction by elimination. Every possible clue is being thoroughly investigated from every possible angle as the police are determined that not a possible or probable lead to the solving of the mystery will remain untouched. Numerous finger prints taken by Inspector Peck of the Finger Print Bureau are being examined and eliminated, and although it is said little success has attended the police efforts in that direction as yet it is still possible that the murderer or murderers left "tell-tale imprints on the walls, door, club or other objects in the room that will prove the key to the puzzle.

Sentence Italian To 15 Days For Carrying Arms

C. Adriano, an Italian who was arrested in the Hongkew district while carrying a young arsenal of revolvers and ammunition, was sentenced to 15 days in jail when he pleaded guilty before the Italian Consular Court yesterday.

Police yesterday arrested H. Hishyima, a Japanese, near the North Szechuen Road bridge, when it was discovered that he was carrying a fully-loaded automatic pistol. He will be charged in the Japanese Consular Court.

China Will Hand Over Yen 16,000,000 For Salt

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 29.—The fiftieth meeting of the Sino-Japanese Commission this morning dealt with the following questions:

(1). The matter of the Tsingtao-Sasebo cable was completely settled.

(2). The total compensation for salt interests and public properties was fixed at 16,000,000 yen in Treasury Notes bearing six percent interest.

(3). All questions within the competence of the First Commission were completely settled and it was decided that the agreement for the transfer of the Tsingtao Administration should be signed at four o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

It is understood that the question of foreign land ownership in Tsingtao will be the subject of separate discussions at a future date.

"Y. W." Secretaries Entertain Wife Of Dr. G. Sherwood Eddy

Mrs. G. Sherwood Eddy and Miss Michi Kawai were guests at a tea given yesterday afternoon by the secretaries of the Young Women's Christian Association, in the rooms of the Association at 11A Quinsan Road. Mrs. Eddy, who is a member of the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association in the United States, spoke of the work of the Y.W.C.A. in the countries of Europe and the Near East. Mrs. Eddy is travelling through the Orient with Dr. Eddy, who has been speaking before Shanghai audiences the past week. Mrs. Eddy spoke on Tuesday before the American Woman's Club.

Miss Kawai has been associated with the Young Women's Christian Association in Japan since its organisation, 16 years ago, and has been its general secretary for the past six years. She was until recently a vice president of the World's Student Christian Federation which had its convention in Peking last spring. She is a graduate of Bryn Mawr College and is one of the foremost leaders of the women of her race. She is in China by invitation of the Japanese church of Shanghai, to do Christian evangelistic speaking among Japanese people. Her address yesterday afternoon was on the work of the Y.W.C.A. in Japan.

Mixed Court Ruling To Act As Check On Rehearing Appeals

A Mixed Court ruling made by one Assessor which is expected to act as a check to frivolous and unwarranted applications for the rehearing of cases if other Assessors adopt it, is mentioned in the Acting Registrar's monthly report, printed in today's Municipal Gazette.

The ruling, which was made by Assessor Mead, sitting with Magistrate Li, is to the effect that as so many of these applications are made without good grounds; it is his intention to discourage this sort of thing by adopting, in cases where the application is not based on reasonable grounds, the procedure obtaining in the Court of Criminal Appeal in England, whereby the sentence of the person convicted dates not from the time of such sentence of imprisonment but from the date of the application. The Assessor added that while the Court was always ready to hear applications where new evidence was forthcoming, it was too busy to listen to those of a frivolous nature.

MADAME ISIS GOES TO COURT THIS MORNING

Marriage To American Is Complication Which Will Interest Attorneys

Madame Isis, fortune-teller and crystal-gazer, will appear in the British Police Court this morning to answer charges that she has been foretelling the past, present and future in contravention to an ancient British law which declares that fortune-telling is one of the seven deadly sins, instead of one of the seven noble arts, as in China.

Madame Isis will appear in court despite the fact that she has become the wife of her manager, Mr. William Francis Wallace, an American, since the police first filed the charge against her.

The marriage, complicated as it was by the fact that under a recent American law alien women do not become American citizens upon their marriage to Americans, and occuring just before Madame Isis was due to appear in the British Court, will necessitate considerable diplomatic unravelling, at which the first move is scheduled to take place today.

Madame Isis, who is represented by Mr. H. D. Rodger, said last night that she would appear in court today, but that she would respectfully submit that by reason of her marriage to Mr. Wallace she was no longer a British subject, and therefore not subject to the British Court's jurisdiction.

The British Court will therefore have to decide whether an alleged unlawful act committed while still a subject of Great Britain, can be prosecuted in a British Court when the subject's nationality is changed before the case is heard. The ruling of the court will set a precedent.

If the British Court decides that it has no jurisdiction in the case police will have only one alternative—prosecute the charge in the International Mixed Court, as Madame Isis, or rather Mrs. Wallace, is not recognised as an American and unrecognised foreigners are tried in the Mixed Court. And fortune-telling is not a crime under Chinese law.

Shanghai attorneys of all nationalities are extremely interested in the legal aspects of the case as it affects many Shanghai people and especially Americans who have intentions of marrying women of other nationality.

Chinese Robbers Cut Phone Wires To Stop Alarms

Chinese robbers are following the fashion and adopting Western methods.

Early yesterday six Chinese, five armed with pistols and one with a meat-chopper, entered 650 Shanhaikwan Road by a back door, and after locking all the occupants in one room ransacked the place, stealing everything of value.

Just before they left the house one of them calmly stepped over to the telephone and cut the telephone wires. It is believed to be the first time in the history of Shanghai crime that Chinese robbers ever used such methods to ward off having the police warned.

Form Association 'To Hasten Return' Of The Mixed Court

Agitation in Shanghai for the return of the International Mixed Court to complete Chinese control has been further increased by the formation of an "Association to Hasten The Restoration of the Mixed Court to China," according to the Shun Pao.

The association is said to have telegraphed the Ministry of Foreign Affairs to open diplomatic negotiations with the Diplomatic Body in Peking toward the return of the court, and to have printed a number of pamphlets containing the Yang King Pang land regulations under which the court was established.

A. C. Mack Acquitted Of Liquor Larceny Charges

of stretching?"—"They made a success but expenses were heavy. Charles Stoppel was in charge."

"But were you not in the wine department?"—"I was in charge of the general office."

"And you were also to get 15 percent from Giesel on net profits?"—"That was 15 percent on the sales in the wine department, beer not to be put in."

"Did you not go to Tientsin Giesel on beer business, to sell G.$10,000 worth of beer?"—"My expenses only were paid and there was no commission."

"If you were running this stretching business and the Hennessy business how is it that Giesel would send his right hand man to Tientsin to sell beer?"—"Beer was the principal item he engaged me for. The beer had been here already for a Winter and if it was not got rid of this Summer it would have been a complete loss. We started out propaganda work and up to the end of July there were 2,000 cases. We sent a man to Manila to sell and he came back without selling a case. I told Giesel to send me as I was confident of selling his beer. During May and June Giesel asked me to put all my mind on beer. Beer was being sold at a loss."

REIDS LABELLED VERMOUTH

"I think you suggested to me yesterday that part of the surreptitious business was to turn Noyon vermouth into Noilly Prat?"—"Noilly Prat was already labelled by Reids and seized by the Chinese-American Bank and sent to our godown afterwards for sale. Among this lot there were 230 cases with labels put on by Reids, but there was no Noyon vermouth in the stuff that came to the godown. There was a certain amount of Noyon vermouth in Giesel's godown. That Noyon vermouth was being disposed of from time to time under proper delivery orders."

"You put it that the profits that Giesel could make out of this humbugging business was about $1,070. Are you suggesting that a profit of $1,070 would be an inducement to a German firm that had been carrying on business for so many years and had come back?"—"It is not a suggestion but a fact. He disposed profitably of the Noyon vermouth that came from the bank."

"You suggest that the arrangement was to substitute Noyon for bad Noilly Prat?"—"You do not seem to understand. We disposed of these cases at $5 a case."

"There were no false Noilly Prat labels put into the godown?"—"Nothing was done with reference to false Noilly Prat."

"These labels are Reids?"—"Yes, they were put on by Reids."

The Judge: "They are false labels?"—"Yes."

Crown Advocate: "And you knew that labelling was done by Reids? When did you know about it?"—"When it was seized."

"When you are selling faked liquors you cannot sell to interests like clubs, hotels, etc. You have to sell it to Chinese who will pass on the buck?"—"Yes."

"You told Giesel that Summer was not the time to sell vermouth?"—"The sole reason of the creditors was to sell the vermouth for after Summer it would turn cloudy."

SOLD BY SHROFFS

"If you are disposing of liquors with spurious labels it would be wiser to sell it to people without any discrimination who would pass it along?"—"It is sold by market shroffs."

"I put it to you that the only way to dispose of liquor of that kind is to sell it by small lots?"—"No, not always. Wing On and others can buy it in large quantities."

"Marie Noyon is a known brand of vermouth and it can be disposed of at a reasonable figure?"—"It is not a known mark. You cannot get $4 a dozen for it. It is not known here."

"These delivery orders were for legitimate sales of Marie Noyon which was not returned?"—"They were also returned."

The Judge: "How could they be returned?"—"Because the stores could not sell them."

Crown Advocate: "Do you think that Giesel sells his goods to take them back?"—"We sell at 50 days. When the Chinese cannot sell they say 'we cannot sell. Take your stuff away, for we cannot pay.' There is a demand for Noilly Prat but not for Marie Noyon."

"When you went to Tientsin for the sale of beer did you make any arrangement with Giesel as to who was going to run the factory?"—"Giesel was to do it."

"Did you teach him about stretching?"—"Battustizzi was there."

"Beer needed honest treatment?"—"After being one Winter it turned cloudy. The only way to sell it was to filter it."

"Battustizzi was engaged for honest work. He was not engaged by Giesel to fake liquor?"—"He was there to fake Sunnybrook whisky."

"Why did you move, on June 25, the Noilly Prat vermouth to the godown man's house?"—"To shield Giesel. It was done with his knowledge."

The Judge: "Do you say that what Hobasch stated was false?"—"Absolutely false, and a pure invention."

"STATEMENT DICTATED"

Crown Advocate: "A statement was put in the French Court, in which you said that this wine faking was done without the knowledge of Giesel?"—"I say that every word in this declaration was made by Giesel with the assistance of Dr. Fischer. One of the conditions under which I made that declaration was that it would not be under oath. Furthermore he assured me that I need not say anything that would incriminate me. And furthermore I understood that I was to make it by courtesy."

The Judge: "Is it allowed to tell lies?"—"I sincerely regret. I was afraid about the faked liquors."

Crown Advocate: "How can it help you to make a false statement in details such as ten barrels of whisky, etc?"—"In the declaration nothing was mentioned about ten barrels of whisky. The declaration was to shield him, that he knew nothing at all about the faked liquors. All this I say again was on Giesel's dictation to shield him."

"Is it true that Blumenthal was willing to buy Noilly Prat if he also got Hennessy"?—"Yes it is a fact. Blumenthal gave me to understand that he would give a bigger order in future. The first order was small."

"You took the whole of that risk on yourself in connection with the signing of the contract?"—"I was never connected with the signing of the contract. If my name appears it is without my authority."

"It was part of the scheme that if any trouble arose it would be an Italian firm?"—"Yes. Battustizzi was willing to sign all documents and put through the deal."

"And you kept the crossed check. Was it not advisable to take it to Giesel and ask him to put it through his bank?"—"It was put in my name without my knowledge. Giesel was too wise and I was also wise. I received the money on September 1, shortly before the raid. He wanted the money but was not willing to sign the receipt."

BOUGHT FROM HIM

"Regarding your goods in the godown, you did not give Giesel a list?"—"Giesel was continually purchasing from me. He purchased hundreds and hundreds of cases from me."

"It related to stuff belonging to Reids?"—"I purchased it from the bank. You can go to the bank and purchase it."

Crown Advocate: "I would not after this."

"Why did you not tell the godown man all these things were yours?"—"Removals were made daily. Giesel had full knowledge that I kept these goods."

The Judge: "How can a godown man manage a godown unless he makes a note of everything that goes out?"—"Everything that goes in and out is Giesel's business. He had full knowledge of all things that belonged to Giesel and Co."

"When it goes in how does he know that it belongs to Giesel?"—"It is told him."

Crown Advocate: "The ten barrels that are in your mother's residence now—what did they contain?"—"Alcohol, essences and sugar. These were only the blending materials for stretching. It is to mature in eight to twelve months. Giesel does not possess any essence except Vichy Rol, which is not an essence."

"Why did they go there?"—"When I came back from Tientsin I found that Giesel was negotiating with a German to be my understudy. I knew that my days were numbered and I decided to run my own firm."

"Do you think that Giesel, under the circumstances, would have the nerve to negotiate with a German?"—"He was arranging."

One of the jurors asked Mack to explain what the ten barrels that he removed contained. The reply was "blending materials."

The juror said that the charge of stealing ten barrels of whisky would then fall to the ground as the ten barrels did not really contain, even on the admission of the prosecution, whisky, as it was described.

The judge said the juror was right.

CROWN SUMS UP

The Crown Advocate in summing up the whole case for the prosecution, said the real question to decide was whether Mack was telling the real truth when he said that he did not improperly deal with or remove 227 cases of vermouth, nor the ten barrels nor the 48 beer cases. His story would have to be balanced in the light of the fact that Giesel and Co. was a very old established German firm, and reopened after the war in the liquor business, a firm that wanted to recover their losses on goods that they imported for Reids. Was it likely after four months' negotiation to open a wine department and enter into this humbugging business when the profit, to put it at the highest, was $1,070 and when the vermouth trade was bad.? Even if the jury assumed for a moment that Giesel and Co. were unmoral, would they have been prepared to enter into such business for this profit. They either authorised Mack to deal with the Noilly Prat in the way it was dealt with or they did not. Supposing that there was no such conspiracy as this better brains than Mack would have been at the back of this manufacture. Proper books of accounts would have been kept, no matter what sort of business the parties were engaged in. The first thing was to keep accounts, especially if there were partners and especially in a business like this. Mack when asked whether he kept any accounts said he did not. Mack had said that possibly Giesel was a party to such a foolish contract as that with Battustizzi. Would Giesel have put the honor of his firm and his private honor in the keeping of a man who was paid a hundred dollars net. It was improbable and practically impossible that Giesel would have put his firm and his own honor at the risk of such a man. As regards Mack's statement in the French Court, it was put to Mack that it was necessary to say so much even if he desired to shield Giesel.

Mr. Tycho Wing in addressing the Court characterised the prosecution as a private one although it was then in the hands of the Crown Advocate. The only important prosecutor was Giesel. There was the witness Battustizzi, whom the prosecution described as "the simple child of Italy" and a "gentleman with a degree." If Giesel knew about these things then the charge of stealing these goods, of stealing the vermouth and barrels and cases, fell to the ground. A very great part of this case turned on the knowledge of Giesel. A lot of suggestions had been made to show that Giesel was really entirely ignorant of it. The Crown Advocate had asked how could a German, being a man of respectability, put himself in the hands of a man like Battustizzi. That was all very well. The whole of this transaction showed that Giesel was not dissociated from the concern that was going on. It was suggested that Mack stole because this vermouth was taken out without a delivery order. The jury could see how necessary it was that it should go out without a delivery order. How could Giesel give it with a delivery order. He could not pass it as Noilly Prat for if he did it would be on record and the bank would come against him. It was from these extraneous circumstances that he asked the jury to look in order to decide which of the parties was telling the truth. Did not Mack's story fit in with the facts? Was not Mack's convincing story more correct?

FAR LESS RHEUMATISM.

In the days of our fathers and grandfathers rheumatism was thought the unavoidable penalty of middle life and old age. Everyone had rheumatism after 40 or thereabouts; many had it earlier.

Modern science has shown that rheumatism is not (as used to be thought) a mere effect of cold and damp. It is a poison in the blood. With good, red, pure blood a man or woman of any age can defy rheumatism, and rheumatism can be got rid of by killing the poison which causes it. There are many middle-aged people who have never felt a touch of rheumatism and elderly people who have conquered it by simply attending to the blood. The blood-making and purifying effect of Dr. Williams' pink pills for pale people, which are a blood-builder, not a purgative, is becoming every year more widely known, and it is the extended use of these pills which has robbed rheumatism of its terrors.

Are you a rheumatic sufferer? If so, no matter how long you have been thus afflicted, no matter how great a hold the rheumatism has got upon your system, there is help for you in Dr. Williams' pink pills. These pills have cured thousands of such cases even in its worst stages; why not yours? They are obtainable from your chemist, or direct and post free, one bottle for $1.50, six for $8, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai. Begin your cure without delay.

PLAN FUNCTIONS HERE TO HONOR DR. ALFRED SZE

Minister Leaves For Huchow Today, Returns Dec. 11

Dr. Sao-ke Alfred Sze, Chinese Minister to Washington and China's Chief Delegate to the Conference on Limitation of Armaments, arrived in Shanghai Tuesday night, accompanied by Madame Sze and Mr. Lau, his secretary.

The party was met at the Customs Jetty by Mr. E. S. Cunningham, Consul-General for the United States, and local Chinese officials. Dr. Sze has taken quarters at the Bank of Communications buildings during his stay in Shanghai.

Dr. and Mrs. Sze will leave for Tsingshih, Huchow, this morning where they expect to remain for about two weeks, returning on December 11. On the night of their return, Minister Sze will be guest of honor at a dinner to be given by General Ho Feng-lin, the Defense Commissioner, and Mr. Hsu Yuan, Special Commissioner of Foreign Affairs, at the Bureau of Foreign Affairs.

Local bodies headed by the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, the Shanghai Bankers' Association and the World Chinese Students' Federation will give Minister Sze a joint reception and dinner at the Chamber on Tuesday night, December 12, at 6 o'clock. Five hundred guests are being invited.

On Wednesday, December 13, at 12:15 p.m., the American University Club will hold a tiffin in his honor at the Carlton Cafe. Consul-General Edwin S. Cunningham will preside. Mr. Sung Han-chang manager of the Bank of China and chairman of the General Chamber of Commerce of Shanghai, will be the other principal speaker at the tiffin.

The Pan-Pacific Association and the Rotary Club are also planning to entertain the Minister during his stay in Shanghai.

UNION CHURCH IN PROTEST TO TRAM PROPOSAL

Writes Council Regarding Soochow Road Proposal

A protest to the construction of tram tracks along the Soochow Road, as suggested in recent correspondence between the Tramway Company and the Municipality, has been lodged with the Council by the Union Church.

The secretary of the Union Church Committee, Mr. A. C. Newcomb, writing to the Council on November 14, states that worshippers at the Church are already very seriously disturbed during services by street noises and that the construction of tram lines in front of the building would make it impossible for any service to be held with due reverence or any degree of comfort for the congregation.

The Council, replying, refers to a letter sent to the Tramway Company in which it was stated that there was no intention of calling on the company to shift the North Soochow Road tracks until a conclusion had been reached as to whether the rail or railless service is the more suitable for North Szechuen Road. When the time arrives for the Council to give its decision in the matter and should the decision be in favor of retention of the rail service, it will then give due consideration to the protest against diversion from North Soochow Road to Soochow Road or the track connecting North Szechuen Road and the Bund.

Chauffeur Is Held On Manslaughter Charge

A chauffeur who was driving motor truck number 5134 when it knocked down and killed an 8-year-old Chinese boy on Urga Road Wednesday was ordered held for trial on a charge of manslaughter at the inquest conducted by British Assessor Mead and Magistrate Loh yesterday. The boy was on Urga Road near Hallar Road when the truck, traveling North, knocked him down. The chauffeur said the brakes failed to work and they are to be tested by the police.

Perfect Peace Is Now On In India

(Reuter's Service)

Delhi, Nov. 29.—An almost complete lull exists in the external and internal situation of the country. The country is quiet. The autumn crops were satisfactory and the prospect of the spring crops is good. The political situation is calm. The Sikh situation is easier, the police have been withdrawn and arrests have stopped while the non-co-operation movement appears to be more or less moribund.

AMERICANS TO SEE GRIDIRON GAME TODAY

Schoolboys And Civilian Team In Annual Battle

AT CRICKET CLUB

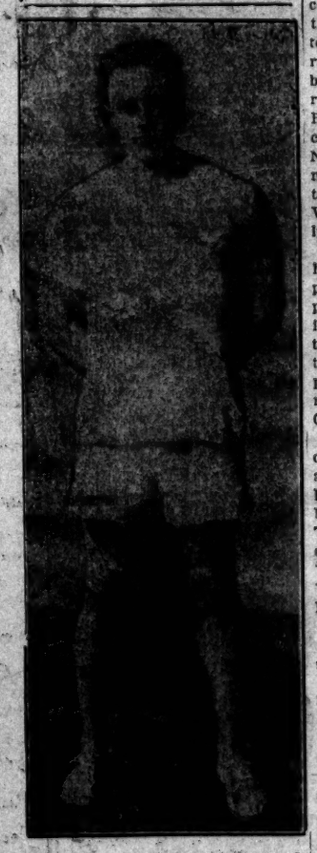
Students Have Strong Eleven And Are Confident

This afternoon, at 3 o'clock, the annual American football game between the Shanghai American school eleven and the civilian team will be played on the grounds of the Shanghai Cricket club.

The school boys have a strong team this year—the strongest they have had in many years, and are confident they will give the civilians a trouncing. The "townies" will have the advantage in weight, but they will have no monopoly of speed, and speed is what counts in American football as it is played these days.

The civilian team has been practicing regularly every night in the drill hall, and have their signals well worked out. "Mal" Maloney and Kenny Irle have worked out some brand new plays to spring on the school boys, and hope to make up in strategy what they lack in team experience.

-:- Irle -:-



CIVILIAN FOOTBALL LEADER

Last year the civilians played the Marines from Peking and it was hoped that another such game could be arranged this year. There was not a sufficient amount of interest shown, however, so the game today with the American school eleven probably will be the only high class exhibition of the great American college sport that will be seen in Shanghai this autumn.

EXPERIENCED MEN

The civilian team is made up of men who are all experienced in college football, and while their play will be more individualistic than that of the school boys, who have had the advantage of playing together several weeks, the contest nevertheless should be a good one.

No admission will be charged and all are invited to attend the game.

The American School football eleven went through its final practice session Tuesday afternoon, with a sharp bit of scrimmaging against the scrubs, and after today's light signal drill, is ready to go into the big game with Shanghai today.

The schoolboys have been practicing hard for the past two months, and they have a strong team in the field. Shanghai's heavier team will not have a chance to brush aside the School's defence this year. In addition to the regular practices, a couple of

RAILWAY FIRE BRIGADE TO STAGE FINAL

Competition Saturday Is Between Shanghai And Chinkiang Men

One of the outstanding competitions of the week-end will be the final contest of the 1922 Shield Competition of the Shanghai-Nanking Railway Fire Brigade. This is to take place at the Markham Road Recreation ground beginning at 3 o'clock on Saturday and a special train that is to be provided for the occasion will leave Shanghai North station at 2:15 o'clock.

Saturday's final round in the competition is to be staged by the Shanghai and Chinkiang teams. Eight other teams of the railway fire brigade that have been eliminated in preliminary rounds are: Woosung, Markham Road, Soochow, Wusih, Changchow, Tanyang Nanking and Nanking Ferry. The brigade numbers about 150 men under the personal direction of Capt. William T. Bartlett who personally has trained the contestants.

Members of the Shanghai team have been training faithfully in preparation for Saturday's competition which they are entering in the expectation of wresting the shield from the Chinkiang team which won it in the competition of last year, the final round of which was staged at Chinkiang.

Those who will serve as judges of the various events Saturday are Mr. C. P. Yin, Managing Director, Mr. A. C. Clear, General Manager and Mr. C. L. G. Wayne, Traffic Manager. The timekeepers will be Mr. Y. D. Zee, Mr. Y. F. Sung, Mr. T. K. Yui and Mr. Y. T. Deu of the Chapei Fire Brigade.

PROGRAM OF EVENTS

The program of events to be staged is as follows:

(1).—The team that has made the best average times throughout the competition will start the demonstration and will choose their house i. e. 1st. Shanghai North, and 2nd. Chinkiang.

(2).—The Shanghai North Brigade will go through the 6 Hose Drills without the use of water, the average time to be taken and counted by the timekeepers in the final count.

(3).—The Chinkiang team will go through the 6 Hose Drills as in item No. 2.

(4).—Upon the signal being given by whistle the Shanghai North team will proceed to erect their Scaling Ladders against the burning building and rescue the Dummy therein. (The time for this demonstration will be taken by the Timekeepers).

(5).—Upon the whistle being again sounded the Shanghai North team will proceed to extinguish the burning building by means of 2½" Hose laid on to Hydrants. (The time for this demonstration will be taken by the Timekeepers).

(6).—Upon the signal being given by whistle the Chinkiang team will proceed to erect their Scaliang Ladders against the burning building and rescue the Dummy therein. (The time for this demonstration will be taken by the Timekeepers).

(7).—Upon the whistle being again sounded the Chinkiang team will proceed to extinguish the burning building by means of 2½" Hose laid on to Hydrants. (The time for this demonstration will be taken by the Timekeepers).

(8).—The times for the two parts of the demonstration i. e. paragraphs 1 to 3 and 4 to 7 will be checked by the Judges and Timekeepers and the team showing the shortest average time will be adjudged to be the winner.

Hood, Manila Golf 'Pro' Plays Here; Has Been Teaching Japanese Ruler

David Hood, professional of the Manila Golf club, played a round at the Kiangwan course yesterday with J. B. Ferrier, Capt. Barrett, C. T. Beath and former Captain MacDonald. Mr. Hood is in the city on his way to the Philippines from Japan, where for the past few weeks he has been instructing the prince regent in the intricacies of the ancient Scotch game.

No scores were kept by the players in yesterday's fivesome, but Mr. Ferrier said after the game that Hood was a wonderful golfer.

After his present contract with the Manila club expires in a few months Mr. Hood will go to San Francisco where he will become professional at one of the California courses. Before he returns to the States Mr. Hood plans a visit to all the leading courses in the Far East, as he has been commissioned to make a report on the progress of golf in the Far East.

Mr. Hood said that golf had taken a tremendous hold in Japan, and that new courses were being laid out every week. He said it was next to impossible to keep pace with the demand for clubs and other golfing paraphernalia. He also said that some very fine players were being developed and that in a few years Japan would be heard from in the big European and American golf tournaments just as Japanese are already making themselves felt in international tennis.

Sunday's feature at Kiangwan will be the semi-annual match between teams representing St. Andrew's Society and St. George's Society. Every year these two teams play two series of games—one in the spring as near as possible to St. George's day, and the other in the fall as near as possible to St. Andrew's day (Nov. 30). The match last spring had to be called off on account of the excessively wet weather, which made the course unplayable, and there has been no meeting, therefore, since autumn a year ago, at which time the Englishmen had the pleasure of buying tiffin for the Scots. This year the St. Andrew's boys are out for revenge, and it is probable that those who happen to be in the neighborhood of Kiangwan on Sunday will see some fur flying. The matches will consist of singles in the morning and foursomes in the afternoon.

The St. Andrew's team will consist of the following: J. B. Ferrier, C. T. Beath, K. M. Cumming, P. Peebles, H. Martin Little, A. Gray, Capt. J. Dewar, C. W. Porter, H. R. Malcolm, C. M. G. Burnie J. Oswald, J. C. Macdougall, R. J. Marshall, A. B. Lowson, R. G. McDonald, E. M. Ross, C. Richards, F. Ferrier, A. W. Mophail, C. J. Scott (President).

These will represent the Scots: Capt. E. I. M. Barrett, W. J. Hawkings, Dr. N. H. Bolton, W. S. Clay, Capt. Sutton, E. Lester Arnold, Col. R. Marr Johnson, C. M. Campbell, R. J. Bowerman, C. H. Hopkins, C. G. Humphrys, W. Markeford Cox, R. P. Melhuish, R. M. J. Martin, K. E. Newman, Dr. C. M. Neild, F. G. Harrison, W. P. Hodgkinson, G. Burton Sayer, E. F. Goodale.

Rushing Tactics Too Much For New York Bantam

Special to The China Press

New York, Nov. 28.—Pancho Villa of the Philippines by last night's victory over Abe Goldstein has strengthened his chances to duplicate Johnny Bug's feat of holding both the flyweight and the bantamweight belts at the same time.

Villa weighing only 110 pounds, decisively whipped Goldstein, who weighed 115½ pounds, demonstrating his ability to concede considerable weight and reach without handicapping himself.

Villa received the judges decision after he had decisively outpointed and outpunched the heavier fighter.

Villa forced the fighting throughout, shooting out wicked lefts as he weaved in around his opponent with catlike ability. The Filipino's rushing tactics staggered the New Yorker in the last few rounds. Goldstein landed few effective punches.

Elino Flores of Manila fought a twelve round draw with Jack Bernstein of Yonkers, N. Y.

Turks Scout Claim of Venizelos For The Counter Damage

(Reuter's Service)

Lausanne, Nov. 29.—In the course of a discussion at the meeting of the Economic Commission yesterday M. Venizelos said that if the Turks pressed their claim for damages the Greeks would also claim for expenses of occupation and claim on behalf of the Greeks driven from Turkey. The latter claim alone, he declared, would far exceed the Turkish. He suggested that as neither would be able to pay the claims of both sides it should be abandoned.

Ismet Pasha appealed to the conference to recognise in principle that Greece must repair the devastated areas.

M. Barrere, one of the French delegates, intimated that the Allies were disposed to consider a reduction of their claims for occupation expenses.

Ismet Pasha accepted in principle the repartition of the Ottoman Debt.

HOLD UP REPLY

(Reuter's Service)

Lausanne, Nov. 28.—The Allied delegates conferred this morning with regard to the Russian Note assisting on Russian participation in all discussions at the Conference equally with the other powers.

It is understood that they decided to refer the matter to their respective Governments before replying. It is reported that the Italian Plenipotentiary favored the admission of the Russians to all discussions.

AEGEAN PROBLEM

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Nov. 28.—The sub-committee of the Lausanne Conference for the discussion of the problem of the Aegean Sea held a sitting this morning under the presidency of General Weygand. This afternoon the Commission for the discussion of the Economic Clauses will hold its second plenary sitting in the course of which Ismet Pasha will furnish details of the Turkish claims.

The Soviet delegation officially denies the reports spread in a number of newspapers with regard to an alleged concentration of Russian troops on the Russian frontier.

It is also denied by both Americans and Turks that a draft commercial treaty is being discussed between the Government of the United States and that of Angora.

Paris, Nov. 28.—Hamid Bey, the Angora representative at Constantinople, has arrived in Paris. He had an interview with the Premier yesterday.

Wang Insists He Beat Them To It

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 29.—It is semi-officially stated that Dr. Wang Chung-hui tendered his resignation on November 25, two days before the question of his impeachment was discussed by the House of Representatives. It is pointed out that he frequently offered to relinquish the Premiership since his assumption to that office and that when the Lo Wen-kan case arose he announced that he would resign as soon as it was settled.

The position has now become untenable and he has therefore begged the President to accept his resignation. He has promised to remain in Peking until the Lo Wen-kan case has been disposed of.

hard games have set the boys on their feet, and they are ready to go. Owing to the great interest shown in the sport this Fall, and the consequently large squads that have turned out for the practices, the School is no longer handicapped by lack of substitutes, and Coach Van Hook has a number of promising players to put in if there is an emergency. There seem to be five fast backfield men available, and a dozen or more are waiting for a chance to get into the line.

Realizing that straight football won't win from a much heavier team, Coaches Van Hook and Edmunds have concentrated on trick plays, and they think the School will gain most of her ground by brainwork. However, there is a sufficient quantity of strength and brawn in the linemen to form a strong defense, and there is no doubt that the line will hold. The School grid men have plenty of fight, and they are eager to win, for this is the big game of the season for them, and they are out to show their real stuff.

ing line will defend the goal from attack.

The school will probably line up as follows:

Among the substitutes, are Wright and Shipley, ends, Moffett, tackle; and Woods in the backfield.

In the games last year, the S.A.S. lost largely through their inability to halt Shanghai's attack in the opening minutes of play. Each of the three games played last Fall ended with the S.A.S. team playing better ball, and they are counting on playing topnotch football from the opening whistle today. With Squires and the two half-backs for line plunges, and Brewster for the fast end runs, the team has a strong offense, and a hard-fight-

Shanghai Strikeless; First Time In Months

For the first time in many months there is not a single strike in Shanghai, and conditions in Pootung, now that the Japan-China Cotton Mills and British Cigarette Company employes have returned to work, are also nearer normal than in recent months.

During the strike fever which struck Shanghai workmen and women, the employes in cotton and tobacco factories, box-makers, silver and goldsmiths, and numerous other trades have had intermittent strikes. All disputes have been amicably settled, however, and a period of industrial rest is expected.

Further Hearing In Volunteer Fleet Case

There was another lengthy hearing in the Mixed Court yesterday of the case in which Patstone and Patstone are suing the agents of the Russian Volunteer Fleet for $37,923 declared to have been expended while complainants were agents for the Fleet.

Argument centered about an audit signed by Captain Lukhmanoff, managing director of the Fleet, in March, 1921, stating that the Fleet at that time owed Patstone and Patstone $15,000-odd. Mr. Elleder, represented by Dr. Fischer, refused to accept the audit as correct. Assessor Allman, sitting with Assessor Ivanoff and Magistrate Kwan, held that they must start with that audit. If it were wrong, defendants could sue Mr. Patstone. Mr. L. Hartigan, representing Patstone and Patstone, and Dr. Fischer were in frequent disagreement, the former declaring that the defense was trying to further delay the case and to confuse the Court.

Testimony was given by the Court accountant and Mr. Elleder.

At the conclusion of the hearing the Court ordered Mr. Elleder to furnish $10,000 shop security within three days. Otherwise it would be obliged to execute a warrant which had been issued charging him with contempt of court.

St. XAVIER TEAMS WIN TWO FROM S. A. S. ELEVENS

Junior And Midget Soccer Teams Play; Midget Score, 14-0

St. Xavier's College won two games from the junior and midget elevens of the American School yesterday afternoon.

The junior game was close and exciting, a penalty kick in the early part of the game placing the College in the lead. During the second half, St. Xavier got together better on the offensive, and scored three additional goals, the final score standing 4 to 0.

The American School midget team, after winning handily Monday afternoon from the French Municipal School by a score of 7-0, was overwhelmed by the fast attack of the St. Xavier youngsters, losing by 14 goals to 0.

Democrats Of Southern States Hold Up Ship Bill And All Else

Washington, Nov. 29.—While the House of Representatives continues to wrestle with the amendments to the Ship Subsidy Bill the Senate has become involved in a complicated dispute on another issue.

The Democrats, after three hours' obstruction yesterday, notified the Republicans that they proposed to hold up all business as long as the majority persisted in its efforts to pass the Dyer Anti-Lynching Bill.

Many of the Democrats belong to the Southern States, where the negro population is large.

14 $20 PIRATE SUSPECTS ARE SENT TO HOMES

Detectives from the French police acted as escort to 14 passengers who sailed yesterday for Hongkong aboard the steamer Kanchow. These fourteen were among the 60 passengers who arrived last Saturday on board the Yingchow and were suspected of being members of the same gang of pirates which captured the Sui An off Hongkong harbor a week ago.

The French police declined to state the reason why these 14 men were suspected of being members of the same gang, other than that each possessed $20 in Hongkong currency which was deemed a curious coincidence.

The men stated that they had come to Shanghai to become vegetable vendors, but detectives scouted the story since each possessed the same amount of silver coinage, which might indicate they belonged to an organised gang since spoils are usually divided equally, after a raid.

SUE THE CHINESE

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, Nov. 29.—The Governor has appointed a commission of inquiry into the Sui-an piracy.

The Hongkong, Canton and Macao Steamboat Company gives notice of its intention to prefer a claim against the Chinese Government for losses sustained in the Sui-an piracy. The Company is prepared to receive and put forward, with its own, claims by any persons on board the Sui-an at the time of the piracy.

Tennis Player's Family Victims Of Sui An Piracy

The mother and sister of Mr. L. Carnavarro, Shanghai tennis star who is returning from Hongkong today, were passengers aboard the steamer Sui An which was attacked by pirates while on the way from Macao to Hongkong ten days ago.

They were robbed of everything they had except their clothes. One of the pirates handed Miss Carnavarro a handbag which she held for seven hours, thinking it was her own property, she was so frightened.

JAPANESE DROP RACIAL CLAIM OF SUPERIORITY

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, November 26.—The Seiyukai Party held its mass-meeting of the Eastern Province at Utsunomiya this morning, which was attended by Viscount Takahashi, the President, M. P.'s and members of the Party, upward of 500 in number. At the meeting, the following proclamation was passed:—

"While we cannot wholly endorse the administrative policy of the present Cabinet, we admit that the fundamental principles of the policy are on the whole coincident with the spirit of our party. Although we are ready to acquiesce in the slight faults of the present Cabinet, we are determined to rectify without hesitation its blunders in case such were made."

The Seiyukai Party has also passed the following resolutions:—

(1) Racial prejudice be eliminated and fair and just treatment be given to all nations in the world.

(2) The Seiyukai Party, as the central power in the political circles of Japan, shall endeavor to discharge its responsibility.

(3) Administrative and financial retrenchment must be effected reasonably in order that urgent

Blood Poisoning

Yet Another Grand Recovery

Our Portrait is of Mr. WILLIAM HARBORNE, of 6, Railway Road, Perry Bar, Birmingham, England, who writes:

"About two years ago I met with rather a bad accident. My arm was cut severely, and I had to have it stitched at the hospital. This caused me six weeks' absence from work, and after resuming my duties for one week I broke out all over my body with huge Boils. Again I went to the Hospital, and was treated for Blood Poisoning; this happened on three successive occasions, until I began to think I should never be cured. Then I gave Clarke's Blood Mixture a trial, and the first bottle or two seemed to be driving out the poison, so I persevered, and after taking ten bottles I was cured. It is now over twelve months since I left off taking your Clarke's Blood Mixture, and I have seen no signs of any further blood disorder."

CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE, by reason of its remarkable blood purifying properties, can be relied upon to give speedy relief and lasting benefit in cases of Eczema, Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Boils, Pimples, Eruptions, Piles, Glandular Swellings, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Gout. Pleasant to take and free from anything injurious.

tend to disturb international peace and the welfare of the people over whom it exercises influence. The world war, in my opinion, arose chiefly from the blind concurrence of the peoples in central Europe in a destructive policy adopted and carried into effect by their military leaders.

"The pressmen in those regions were to a large extent responsible for educating the masses of their fellow-citizens into the fallacious belief that militarism was the sure and only avenue to supreme power in this world. They disregarded the symptoms of their national disease. Notwithstanding that their countries have been noted for medical skill, they persisted in prescribing a form of medicine of which the sugar-coating alone had merit. If their press had had the right conception of the wants of their peoples, had it given a right diagnosis of the disease from which their national life was suffering, the prescription would have been one, not of aggrandisement, but of co-operation with the other members of the Family of Nations.

PRESS NATIONAL ASSET

"The press in America exercises a judicious leadership of its readers. It is conducted in a way that reflects credit on the profession of journalism. It has become a national asset, which provides material from which its country can draw inexhaustable resources in times of great national crises. Just at the critical stage of the world war, it boldly led the people of America to join forces with the Allies against the then common foe of the world, and the fruits now enjoyed by America from the action which she was encouraged to take by the preponderance of public opinion, undoubtedly created by the press, redound to the credit of our fellow-journalists in that fortunate country.

CO-OPERATION ESSENTIAL

"The press in this country is, however, still young. It still stands in need frequently of the friendly advice and co-operation of its contemporaries in countries such as the United States of America. Sometimes we may want their advice as to how intrusive exploition and aggression may be repelled. But it is the constant co-operation of the American press which is indispensable to us in our task of promotion and maintaining cordiality between other nations and ourselves—a cordiality which forms the very basis of international commerce.

"Mr. Noyes has now had the opportunity of seeing China at first hand and as she really is. He has had some opportunity of informing himself as to her institutions, her ancient learning, her hives of industry, her historic monuments, her commercial and engineering enterprises, her rural quietudes and, last but not the least, her busy and hard working, population characterised by a degree of pacifism which should be a paramount factor for the preservation of her present integrity.

ATTITUDE PACIFIC

"She has no aspiration for the exploition of that which does not belong to her. She has no passion to dominate over the territories of others. She wishes for nothing more than to enjoy, unmolested, the fruits of her own labor. If we are left free to work out our own salvation, and to assimilate such Western civilisation as we consider to be suitable to our needs, leaving aside what is inconsistent with our fundamental institutions, we shall be able, in course of time, to attain a position which will be beneficial not only to ourselves but also to the rest of the world.

"For our country, we deprecate foreign exploition, foreign aggression, and the so called 'Sphere of Influence.' These, if forced upon us, will inevitably produce a reaction detrimental to the peace of the rest of the world. It is our sincere and fervent hope that the press in the United States of America will assist us by its kindly help and generous sympathy.

POLITICAL DIFFICULTIES

"We must confess that the political position in our country is not without difficulties. The basis however is sound. Our country has passed through a period of travail, from which she will shortly arise, rosy cheeked, and full of vitality. During this period of recuperation we look to you, Mr. Noyes, and to your colleagues in your country, for encouragement and solace. We rely on the intimacy of the traditional friendship between your country and ours, and we are sure that our appeal will have a ready and favorable response from you. It is our sincere and fervent hope that on your way home, at the conclusion of your sojourn in this country, you will bear with you impressions which may well be of inestimable value in the way of improving the mutual understanding and the fraternal spirit now existing between the two great Republics to which respectively, we are proud to belong.

"Now, gentlemen, and brother journalists, fill up your glasses and drink to the health of our distinguished guest of honor Mr. Frank B. Noyes."

In replying to Mr. Wang's address, Mr. Noyes stated that he regretted his inability to do so adequately inasmuch as his time had been so taken up with official visits he had not had time to frame a suitable reply.

"I have been deeply moved," Mr. Noyes said, "by the earnest and warm welcome accorded me by my brother craftsmen in Shanghai, a memory which I will always treasure in my heart.

"On several occasions you have been kind enough to say that China's cause was assisted in the Washington conference through the dissemination of news by the Associated Press. I have repeatedly stated that the Associated Press has always told the truth as it finds it and is never guilty of spreading propaganda. I repeat therefore that in China's case the Associated Press only told the whole truth, and public opinion was therefore formulated on a sound basis. The Associated Press took no sides in the matter and that is the reason it was enabled to make China's position clear."

Mr. Noyes cited examples of the Associated Press' impartiality and mentioned the programs in Russia and various strikes in the United States which were condemned as a result of public opinion.

In conclusion Mr. Noyes said, "I have frequently stated that the Press of Shanghai is leading the way to remainder of China in formulating sound public opinion. See to it however that the people of China understand America, since you ask that Americans shall have a better understanding of the Chinese Republic, through the proper dissemination of news in the United States."

Dr. David Yui, General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and the People's Delegate to the Washington Conference spoke at length regarding the present political strife in China but stated that they were merely surface disturbances and that the people at heart remained true and loyal to the high ideals of their ancestors. He assured Mr. Noyes that China would work out her problems in due time.

Mr. V. G. Lyman, Director of the American Chamber of Commerce and member of the Municipal Council stated that he would do his utmost to assist Mr. Noyes in helping to solve the problem of obtaining American news direct from America, without first passing through England as at present. He thanked the Chinese hosts for their great hospitality to a fellow countryman which always served to knit closer the ties which bound the two Republics.

Police Disguised As Furniture Raid Lottery

Fifteen foreign detectives and constables from Hongkew station, disguished as 'furniture' successfully raided a Hwo Hwei lottery in Woosung Road yesterday and arrested 22 gamblers.

The policemen hid in a furniture van which was driven to the house in which the lottery was being conducted, taking the gamblers unawares. They were all fined $3 or sentenced to serve 3 days in jail in the Mixed Court yesterday. Police arrested 117 men in the same manner at the same place last year.

Obituary

MR. CHARLES PIENS

His many friends in Shanghai learned with deep regret yesterday of the death, shortly before noon, of Mr. Charles Piens, manager of Watson's Mineral Water Company. Mr. Piens had been ill for about a month with typhoid in his home at 30 Kwen Ming Road.

Mr. Piens, who was 62 years of age, was widely known as a keen philatelist and his collection of stamps is regarded as a very fine one by experts. He is survived by his two daughters, Mrs. John Manners, who is now on her way to Shanghai after a trip to America, and an unmarried daughter who is in school at a convent in Belgium.

Funeral services will be held at 4:30 p.m. today at Bubbling Well Cemetery.

MR. V. GAETA

Mr. V. Gaeta of the Chinese Maritime Customs died yesterday aged 53, after a short illness, and funeral services are to be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from St. Joseph's Catholic Church. Burial will be at Bubbling Well Cemetery.

MR. FRANK BACON

(United Press Service)

Marysville, Cal., Nov. 25.—Funeral services for Frank Bacon, co-author of "Lightin,'" one of the biggest hits of recent theatrical productions and holder of the longest run record in New York and Chicago, who died in Chicago of arterio-sclerosis, were held here today.

Mr. Bacon was a native of Marysville and went from here to San Francisco for his first theatrical experience.

CONGRESSMAN NOLAN

San Francisco, Nov. 20 (delayed).—Congressman John I. Nolan died here yesterday after an illness of three months. He had served five terms in Congress and was elected unopposed on November 7 for a sixth term. He was a prominent union official of San Francisco.

WILLIAM G. SHARP

Elyria, Ohio, Nov. 20.—Funeral services were held here today for William Graves Sharp, former Ambassador to France, who died after an illness of several days. Mr. Sharp was American Ambassador to France from 1914 to 1919. Before serving as Ambassador he served three terms in Congress from Ohio.

LUKE E. WRIGHT

Memphis, Tennessee, November 16.—Luke E. Wright, Secretary of War in President Roosevelt's Cabinet and Ambassador to Japan for two years, is dead.

Mr. Wright died this morning, after several months illness. His wife and two daughters were with him when he passed away.

Mr. Wright also was Governor-General of the Philippines in 1905-6. The previous year he acted as civil governor of the Islands. He was 76 years old at the time of his death.

Mr. Wright held the post of American Ambassador in Tokio in 1906-7. In 1908 he entered President Roosevelt's Cabinet as War Secretary, but retired the following year.

In politics Mr. Wright was what was known in the McKinley-Bryan presidential campaigns as a Gold Democrat. His wife, Mrs. Kate Wright, was a daughter of the noted Admiral Semmes of the Confederate States' Navy during the American Civil War. His home was in Memphis, Tennessee, and he was Attorney-General of that state for eight years.

Wedding

OSLEND-HILL—WALN

The marriage of Miss Nora Waln and Mr. George Edward Oslend-Hill, postal commissioner at Nanking, was solemnised at noon yesterday at the Holy Trinity Cathedral by the Rev. C. W. Spencer.

The bride, who was attractively costumed in a gown of white crepe de chine and veil caught with orange blossoms, was given away by Mr. Eric Clarke of Peking. Mrs. Clarke, as matron of honor, wore a costume of champagne crepe de chine and lace with hat of silver cloth. The bride's bouquet was of white tea roses and carnations while the matron of honor carried a shower bouquet of pink tea roses. Mr. C. H. Shields, Postal Commissioner of Shanghai, acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding luncheon was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Robinson, 658 Avenue Haig. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Eric Clarke, Mr. C. H. Shields, the Rev. C. W. Spencer, Mrs. Elizabeth D. Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Leonard, Mr. Young, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Raven, Miss Ruth House, Miss Edna Lee Booker, Miss Margaret Hann, Miss Helen Thoburn, Miss Roselle Venable, Mr. Buchanan, Miss Robinson and Master Russell Robinson. Mr. and Mrs. Oslend-Hill sail this morning for Hongkong where they will spend their honeymoon. They will be at home in Nanking after December 15.

CHINESE COURT CRITICISED FOR NON-COOPERATION

Criticism of the Shanghai City Court for failure to co-operate with the International Mixed Court is contained in the October report of the Acting Registrar of the Mixed Court, published in today's Municipal Gazette. The report states:

"Two cases occurred in which the Shanghai Sheng Pan-ting failed to give all the co-operation required by this Court, the reason for this attitude apparently being that they consider that their requests to this Court have not met with the desired assistance. In he first case a dispatch warrant was issued, as the defendant had failed to appear on the summons, and when help was required to execute the warrant it was withheld as they stated they had to obtain a new letter from the Commissioner of Foreign Affairs, although they were already in possession of one from him asking for this dispatch warrant for the defendant's arrest. In the second case this Court sent over representatives three or four times to point out the defendant for whom a despatch summons had been issued but they refused to co-operate and later wrote stating that they had received no help from this Court. It is interesting to note that the plaintiffs in both cases are foreigners."

BRITISH SOCIETY IN TOKIO HOLDS ITS CELEBRATION

Count Chinda Stresses The Need For Cooperation Of Two Nations

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Nov. 29.—The British Society," composed of the most prominent Japanese and British personages in Tokio held its annual meeting and banquet today at which Count Chinda, former Ambassador at London, Mr. Nagai, former Counsellor of Embassy at London, General Itami, Admiral Kobayashi, Military and Naval Attaches respectively, and Mr. Mori, formerly Commercial Attache at London, were the guests of honor. Sir Charles Eliot presided and was supported by the former Ambassadors Viscount Kato, Marquis Inouye and Prince Tokugawa. Countess Chinda and many other ladies were present.

Sir Charles Eliot toasted Count and Countess Chinda, felicitously reviewing Count Chinda's services as Ambassador, later with the Crown Prince on the occasion of his visit to England and also as chief of the Prince Regent's Household in welcoming the Prince of Wales.

Count Chinda, replying feelingly stressed the necessity for the maintenance of the friendship between the two peoples, which, he said, had been marvellously evidenced by the spontaneous welcome of unnumbered thousands throughout both countries on the occasion of the exchange of visits of the representatives of their rulers. Count Chinda paid a tribute to the whole of the people of England and the great Dominions of Britain whose devotion and courage he had observed and admired during his four years residence in war-stressed London.

Sir Edward Crowe, Commercial Secretary of the British Legation at Tokio, toasted the other guests of honor, especially paying a tribute to Mr. and Madame Nagai.

The most brilliant function in the history of the Society closed with a speech by the former Ambassador, Viscount Kato, who emphasised the value of such an organisation as the British Society to the peoples of all classes of both nations.

New Bank Note Issue

BY THE NATIONAL COMMERCIAL BANK, SHANGHAI.

This is to announce that on December 1st, 1922 we will issue our own Bank Notes with denominations of One Dollar, Five Dollars and Ten Dollars.

Our right of note issue was conferred upon us by the Imperial Board of Finance and Board of Agriculture, Industry and Commerce in the Thirty-third year of KWANG-HSU (1907). It was extended by the National Currency Bureau on January 6th, 1921 and approved by the Ministry of Finance.

Against this note issue, there is created and set aside a special Note Reserve Fund, entirely distinct from the general funds of our Banking Department.

The Notes are payable in cash at par upon presentation at our Bank.

Telegraph Loan Basis Of Protest Japan Is Making

(China Press Service)

Peking, Nov. 28.—M. Obata, Japanese Minister in Peking, has idressed a despatch to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, protesting against the reported conclusion of a telegraph loan by the Ministry of Communications with a certain American banking group on the ground that according to a treaty entered into between the Chinese and Japanese Governments in 1918, preference should be given to Japanese capitalists in the event of the conclusion of a telegraph loan.

Execute 11 Chinese Armed Robbers

Eleven Chinese convicted of being implicated in armed robbers in the Settlement and in Chinese territory, were executed in Chapei and Nantao by the Chinese Arsenal authorities Tuesday.

Nine robbers, Li Hui-hsin, Hsiao Kang-tien, Wang Kien-cheng, Ho Yiu-shen, Kung Kang-lin, Yin Miu-yiu, Wang Ching-yaan, Chen Yu-nyi and Liu Teh-jung, who were recently extradited from the International Mixed Court to the Defence Commissioner's yamen, were shot at Nantao.

The other two, Wong Ching-pau and Zung Siao-dee, who were convicted of an armed robbery in Chapei, were executd near the scene of their crime after being conveyed there from the military Governor's yamen in launches. The usual crowd of morbidly curious Chinese watched the men shot to death.

French Minister Orders Deportation Of Austrian Banker

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Nov. 28.—The French Minister of the Interior has decided to deport Oscar Otto, an Austrian subject and representative of the Bank of Prague, who has been convicted of speculation of a character to influence exchanges on the Paris market.

Italy Dismissing All Alien Consuls

(Reuter's Service)

Rome, Nov. 28.—An official degree has been issued ordering the dismissal from the beginning of next year of all Italian Consuls and Vice-Consuls and agents abroad who are non-Italians and their replacement by Italians, preferentially ex-service men. The appointment of foreigners will only be considered in the event of difficulty in finding suitable Italians.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

November 29, 1922

Spot bar silver was down 5-16d. and forward 3-16d. in London yesterday. The New York price declined to 63¾ cents and the London-New York cross rate to 452½.

Our official Sterling rate here this morning was dropped to 3-1, the Gold Dollar rate to 69¾, the Yen rate raised to 70¼ and the other rates changed in proportion.

Our market at the opening was inclined to be easy but steadied up somewhat later in the day. At the opening business in Sterling was done as low as 3-1 9-16 for November-December-January delivery and in Gold Dollars at 70⅞.

Later on in the morning business was done as high as 3-1 11-16 for November-December delivery and at 71¼ for forward Gold Dollars. There were, however, generally buyers at these rates.

At the close there were sellers of Sterling at 3-1⅝ for November-December and possibly January delivery with buyers 1-16d. higher.

There were sellers of Gold Dollars at 70⅞ for November-December and 71 for forward delivery, with buyers ⅛ point higher. There were Yen sellers at 68¾ for November-December delivery with buyers at 68⅝.

Banks were quoting 3-2⅜ for Sterling bills, 72¾ for Gold Dollar bills and 1060 for Franc bills.

China, America, the Continent, and India all sold silver in London yesterday. The market there is reported as steady, at the close. Owing to cable delays no advices have as yet been received from New York.

China's Parliament Asks Kao About Obligation For $30,000,000

(China Press Special)

Peking, Nov. 28.—The House of Representatives has addressed a note of inquiry to the Cabinet with reference to a report that Mr. Kao En-hung, Minister of Communications, has concluded with a Dutch-Belgian Banking Group loans aggregating $30,000,000, secured on the Sianfu-Kwanyintang section of the Lung-Hai Railway. The Cabinet is asked to give a satisfactory reply within three days.

Contrary reports are current regarding the alleged Dutch-Belgian Loan. The authorities concerned deny that such a loan has been concluded, and it appears that the negotiations for the aforesaid loan were dropped, owing to the refusal of the banking group to accept the proposal of the Ministry of Communications to substitute the Kinsi-Faotao section of the Peking-Suiyuan Railway for the Sianfu-Kwanyintang section of the Lung-Hai Railway as security for the loan.

Mrs. Sherwood Eddy Tells College Women Of Child Labor Needs

Urges Club To Join Movement To Investigate Factories

In an address on "Child Labor Conditions in China" at the meeting of the College Woman's Club Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Sherwood Eddy urged all members of the club to join the movement afoot in Shanghai for the investigation of factory conditions.

Mrs. Eddy painted vivid pictures of factory life as she has seen it during her stay in China and urged the women of Shanghai, through the clubs, churches and mission organisations, to do all possible to help improve conditions.

According to Mrs. Eddy, existing conditions in the majority of factories in China can be remedied only through education. She pointed out that this would take time and that the women must not expect to bring about changes immediately.

The three planks which Mrs. Eddy urged the women to work toward first were:

1.—The prohibition of any child under twelve years of age being employed in a factory.

2.—The bringing about of the six-day rather than the seven-day week with the paying of a living wage.

3.—The improvement of sanitary conditions.

Mrs. Eddy is making a special study of the factory conditions in China and she has visited the silk filatures, cotton mills, peanut factories, hair net plants, cloth weaving factories, glass blowing works and many other lines of industry. In her address she appealed to the club women to visit the Shanghai factories and strive to co-operate with the factory owners in improving the conditions. She told of the long hours of the women and children workers, of the lives lost by unguarded machinery, of the unhealthy conditions under which the majority of the factories are run and of the pityfully small wage of the workers.

Following Mrs. Eddy's address, Miss A. Harrison of the Y.M.C.A. told of the movement in Shanghai for the study of factory conditions, which is being supported strongly by the women of the various clubs.

The College Club met at the home of Mrs. F. J. Raven.

Japanese Offer 5 Millions To Aid Shantung Mines

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, November 27.—The 48th meeting of the First Section of the Sino-Japanese Joint Commission was held this afternoon following the 47th meeting this morning.

In connection with the establishment of a mining syndicate under Sino-Japanese joint management, the Japanese Government will grant Y. 5,000,000 without interest on condition that in the event of the net profit exceeding 8 percent, one half of the surplus of the net profit shall be paid to the Japanese Government. The commissioners of both countries agreed on the article to various conditions for the formation of the syndicate in question, according to the Japanese report.

The Japanese commissioners insisted upon the permanent leasehold of Tsingtao land and the Chinese commissioners agreed only to the leasehold without compensation within the limit of the lease of Kiaochow which the Germans acquired. The commissioners thus failed to come to terms and decided to leave this matter unsettled, to be solved later by both Governments. It was agreed that for the leased land granted by the Government a lease for a term of 30 years will be allowed after the expiration of the existing term.

With regard to the submarine cable between Tsingtao and Sasebo, the commissioners failed to reach an agreement.

At the 46th meeting of the Sino-Japanese Joint Commission held yesterday, with regard to the exportation of Tsingtao salt, the Japanese commissioners agreed on the term for fifteen years.

Views were exchanged regarding compensation for the salt industry and public properties and conditions in connection therewith, and it was agreed that the total will be discussed at the next meeting.

The commissioners also exchanged views on compensation for mines.

DEFER LAND QUESTION

With regard to the reserved properties along the Shantung Railway, it was agreed to settle this question after the solution of the subject concerning the opening of commercial places along the Railway.

With regard to the question of compensation relative to the public properties, postal and telegraph services, salt industry, and wharves at Tsingtao, the Japanese commissioners brought up a proposal for compromise, fixing the sum of compensation to be 17,000,000 yen, whereas the Chinese commissioners insisted upon $14,000,000. In consequence, they failed to solve this question.

The Japanese commissioners presented a reply regarding the valuation of the Shantung Railway and also a note of refutation regarding the existing value of the property left behind by Germans.

With regard to the valuation of the Railway, the Chinese commissioners offered the total sum of $27,000,000 and the Japanese commissioners insisted that they could not accept the sum referred to, with the result that the commissioners of both countries failed to settle this question.

MINING QUESTION UP

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 25.—The forty-fourth meeting of the First Section of the Sino-Japanese Joint Commission was held at the Waichiaopu at 4:00 p.m., yesterday. The following questions were brought forward:

(1) The Japanese Commissioners made certain observations objecting to the Chinese amendments to the Japanese proposal on the question of exportation of salt. No decision was reached.

(2) The Chinese commissioners brought up their proposal for settlement of the mining question. The Japanese commissioners objected to the provisions concerning questions of compensation, division of capital, number of directors, freight charges and other points. The views of the two delegations were gradually coming closer together. It was decided that the Japanese commissioners should bring in a written reply.

(3) The Chinese commissioners brought up their latest proposal in reply to those of the Japanese commissioners on the following questions: (a) Tsingtao-Sasebo cable; (b) Question of landed property.

Peking, Nov. 25.—The forty-fifth meeting of the First Section of the Sino-Japanese Joint Commission was held at the Waichiaopu at ten o'clock this morning. The following questions were taken up:

(1) The Chinese commissioners brought up a new proposal on the question of the use of the Japanese alphabet by the Tsingtao cable, wireless service and telegraph service. The Japanese commissioners will reply after having considered it.

ers brought up a revised formula on the question of the Tsingtao-Sasebo cable, to be agreed upon by both sides, in reply to the latest proposal of the Chinese commissioners. The Chinese commissioners will reply after having considered it.

(3) In reply to the latest proposal of the Chinese commissioners on landed property, the Japanese commissioners continued to insist upon the claim for perpetual lease and fifty years' lease. The Chinese commissioners were strongly opposed to it. No decision was reached.

After Listening To Dr. Sherwood Eddy's Speech

BY MRS. LIZZIE A. MacGILLIVRAY

(Editor of Happy Childhood)

SOMETIMES we feel like the prophet of old who said, "As I mused the fire burned, then spake I with my lips."

With many others I am intensely interested in the economic question, especially as it affects "child labor." A few nights ago I was out to dinner in the Yangtzepoo district. I do not keep a car and do not ever expect to do so, but we phoned for the humble Ford to take us home. It was nearing 11 p.m. and the people were streaming out of the mills—tired jaded women and little children. Others were going into the mills to begin their nightly toil just as we were going home to a warm bed. Oh, those little tired children! Our car had to go slowly, the road was full of them. Again and again, and far into the night I asked myself this question, "Why should you be riding in a car, even if only a hired Ford, and those little children toiling to and from work at 11 p.m.?" Sir, I am not a Socialist, that is, not in the accepted meaning of the word; I am not a Bolshevik, far far from it. But I do not know what I should be if I had had to begin life as those little children, or if my children were in their places today. I believe there must be Capital and Labor, but not Capital and child labor.

I know there are many difficulties in the way, and we cannot compare labor here with that in our home cities. The workman in China has yet to learn that if he wants a good day's wage, he must be willing to do a good day's work.

We have recently built a house, and I sympathise with the employers of labor, very much more than I did before we began to build that house. The ordinary Chinese workman seems to have no conscience, and until he finds one, I cannot see how his wage earning capacity is to increase very much.

But this does not alter the fact which is accepted by the whole civilised world that child labor is wrong. What can be done? These children cannot be turned on the streets. Many of our mill-owners say, and we believe them, they would rather not have children working in their mills. Probably if the children were turned out tomorrow morning, bitterness would be their lot. Some of them would be sold, others put to still heavier tasks. But even in the face of all these difficulties we venture to say again, that child labor is wrong, and two wrongs do not make a right. The children cannot all be turned adrift, but we can see to it that very young children at least do not work, and that those who do work, do so under proper conditions and at proper hours.

Does our duty end there? I think not. Cannot these mill-owners open half-time schools for these children who labor for them? The Municipal Council spends a huge sum of money every year on expensive schools with expensive foreign teachers for Chinese boys, most of whom are well-to-do boys. Could they not help to start these Primary Schools? No child, then, should be allowed to work in a mill who did not attend half-time at one of these schools. There are many who would give voluntary help in supervising if necessary. Let these children learn to read and write their own language, and have physical exercises to help develop their bodies. Maybe in this way we would be building up a generation of intelligent, honest workmen.

We have many Churches in Shanghai—the Cathedral, Union Church, Free Christian Church Roman Catholic Churches. Chinese Churches, also many influential Associations and Clubs. Why do not the Churches in the name of the one who was the Friend of little children, rise up and speak? Why do not these Clubs and Associations speak? Where are their voices?

Is it enough to go to our Churches, fold our hands piously and pray, "Thy will be done, Thy Kingdom come on earth as in Heaven," then go home and, think we have acted like good Christians? We get stirred up now and again, when we hear a voice like that of Dr. Sherwood Eddy. But, alas, we soon forget. I fear a good many of us will hear the voice saying, "Inasmuch as ye did it not."

One more point before I close. There are too many people in China, and the Churches and Schools and the Government. (Alas, where is the Government?) should teach birth control to the Chinese people, but that is an educational process that will take time.

Meanwhile let our ears be open to the call of the children, let our voices be ready to plead for them. Let us begin here in Shanghai to show the other cities of China what Christian ethics can perform.

The Direction Of American Foreign Trade

Members of the American Manufacturers' Export Association who held their annual convention in New York the last week in October should accept a realistic understanding of the foreign trade situation, says The Financial Review.

Insistance by many authorities that it is largely in Europe and that it can be assured there by the cancellation of the indebtedness due us may lead to foolish and calamitous results.

The fact that our trade with Europe has decreased this year is not remarkable; it is somewhat natural since it was inevitable. We may ignore common principles of economics by imposing high tariffs and still expect larger export business, but no country is able to readjust its uneven balance toward other countries where there is no free trade relations.

This point would probably be more pertinent than that recommended by some of our leading authorities, the cancellation of the war-debt. The debt of 3½ billion dollars for regular non-war merchandise credits should show that it is rather hazardous to continue uneven business relations with that part of the world.

As we have suggested many times, Europe must have some trade credit balance with the United States if we are to expect any important liquidation of these debts; the higher tariffs were about the best way we can think of to make them impossible of collection.

Dr. Klien of the Department of Commerce has emphasised the fact that our export trade is "gradually shifting from Europe to Asia and the nearby countries of the world."

In actual figures our Far Eastern exports for the first 8 months of this year are $51,069,000 larger, while those to Europe are $372,383,000 smaller. This is not a complete presentation since the character of the imports have a significant bearing on the total value of our overseas trade.

From the Far East we generally import raw materials which we do not produce here and which can be returned in the form of manufacturers. European imports are invariably luxuries or raw materials that come in direct competition with our own. With Europe our imports are $108,440,000 and with Asia $117,206,000 larger in 8 months.

The recent troubles in the Near East originated in the contest to maintain a monopoly in transportation to the most profitable trade section of the world, the same Far East. We were not a party to that contest and we need not be; a part of the [illegible] ours if we really care to go after it.

Today, according to the Americanised calendar, is Thanksgiving Day. Tomorrow, according to the Chinese calendar, is the day chits come due.

By a simple process of elimination we can't figure much we've got to be thankful for unless it's because we've still got our community shirt on our back.

Other Things We're Thankful For

That we got our overcoat before the north wind doth blowed.

That Christmas comes but once a year.

That the Attorney-General's ruling didn't consider citizens in China as being on the high seas.

That we know what "flapper tables" means.

That we know what "yes, we have no bananas" means (sometimes.)

That someone else won first prize in the Champions.

And that we don't have to write this pagoda of piffle twice a day instead of once.

Joe Eichwald was the first inquisitive gent to answer our offer of information concerning the w.k. 'flapper tables.' Joe, incidentally, gave us further proof of the fact that he has an eye for figures by correctly solving the riddle. The offer is still open to all sending self-addressed, stamped envelopes.

REMARKABLE REMARKS

"Turkey has set her heart on Thrace and must have it immediately."—Ismet Pasha.

"Men distinguish between fact and fiction more readily than women."—Prof. Warner Brown.

"I am doing my utmost to provide a service that will bring American news direct from America to China."—Mr. Frank Noyes, President of the Associated Press.

"And so from hour to hour we ripe and ripe, and then from hour to hour we rot and rot; and thereby hangs a tale."—Shakespeare.

"Thank you for nothing!"—Cervantes.

The Pilgrims unquestionably were thankful when the day first began because of the good crops and the absence of Indian tomahawks from their skulls. And mince pie, undenatured.

A Thanksgiving feast in the United States of Aridity nowadays consists of "Song, wimmen and sandwiches."

You'll notice we have purposely avoided any reference to what Turkey has to be thankful for because it's an alleged pun that has worn thin with constant repeating but we don't know how in the name of the Prophet we'll stretch this pagoda of piffle out to its logical conclusion—the end—unless we do.

Turkey probably is thankful that it didn't get cooked in Greece, as the popular saying is, but what about its fowl namesake?

Chopping off turkey heads is the most popular outdoor sport in America today, just as causing turkey legs to disappear is the principal indoor sport. Turkey itself merely is attempting to get some of its chopped off territory back.

And since we're going to fast all day, we'll merely say, as Oliver Twist already said, "Thank me no thanks."

LARRY.

To A Luckless Child

BY S. E. KISER

You play, well guarded, with expensive toys
Where all the worldly comforts are supplied,
But there is no one else to share your joys,
And there is something more you are denied;
The one who ought to watch with tended care
And listen when you say your evening prayer
Spares little of her time to think of you;
Her gems and beauty claim attention where
The many gaze with envy at the few.

In those far-distant years when gray shall gleam
Among the thinning locks upon your brow
You never may sit down alone to dream
Such dreams as I sometimes sit dreaming now,
When in my fancy I can feel the light,
Soft touch of loving hands! And in the night
The little prayers I learned beside Her knee
Art oft recalled, as if Her spirit might
Have stolen back to whisper them to me.

When you shall look across the past where lie
The scattered fragments of your childhood's years,
But memories will you have for her? You sigh
Against a nurse's breast, and waste your tears
Where there is lack of soulful sympathy!
At night you kneel beside a servant's knee,
From you love's richest treasure is concealed;
You gaze not into eyes where you may see
The tenderness of motherhood revealed.

She has no time to kiss your tears away,
Or teach the little prayers that you should learn;
She looks her proudest where the scene is gay,
And rouses foolish envy in return.
Unlucky child! Denied the love supreme,
In those far-distant years when gray shall gleam
Among the thinning locks upon your brow
You will not ever sit alone and dream
Such dreams as I sometimes sit dreaming now.

New Parties For Old

(New York Tribune)

President Butler gave voice to a widely felt and largely justifiable impatience with the old parties in his speech before the Institute of Arts and Sciences. It is an impatience that The Tribune shares and has frequently expressed with respect to much political leadership, Republican as well as Democratic. But does Dr. Butler point the way to any betterment?

The proposal of Dr. Butler is that a Democratic-Republican party be formed out of the liberal and conservative elements of the two parties. As an inevitable consequence there would be formed a radical party. Thus, he argues, would come about "an honest and sincere division of political forces." In effect the proposal is to introduce the European and English systems into America. On the Continent there are numerous groups arranged according to their degree of radicalism or conservatism and running all the way from the extreme left to the extreme right. A government represents no one party, but a bloc composed of several groups. In England the two-party system has prevailed until recent times, divided along the lines of liberalism and conservatism. With the rise of the Labor party three groups have resulted that might very roughly be tagged radical, liberal and conservative.

There are no left and right in our American Congress. There are radicals in both parties—Senator La Follette in the Republican and Hearst in the Democratic, for example. There are, equally conservatives in both parties. The cleavage, in short, is not along the line of radicalism or conservatism. As a result the radicals have never succeeded for any length of time—any more than the conservatives have ever been able to control steadily. The country steers a safe course between extremes.

Perhaps it is true that sheer logic is with the European system. It is the most rational way to arrange human beings in parties. But logic is not all there is to government, especially a democratic government. If the American mind has any conspicuous quality all its own it is a sort of middle-of-the-road common sense that refuses to plunge hell-bent for anything. Is it not possible that our American system rests upon a peculiar quality of the American mind? In a very real sense there is no extreme left and extreme right in the mass of American voters. That is the essential reason why it has never been possible to form a radical or labor party in America. That may very well be the reason why the country has always steered clear of a division as between liberals and conservatives. Most of us live by a mixture of both principles.

It would be easy to brush Dr. Butler's idea aside on the high ground that it is utterly unthinkable. But to do so would ignore the underlying facts. The American is as impatient with much leadership of the Republican party as anybody. But it is convinced that it does represent a very real slant of mind, neither radical nor conservative, but lying somewhere in that middle-of-the-road region of idealistic horse sense of which President Lincoln was the typical embodiment. Its point of view is not nearly so difficult to define as some hasty critics suppose. A truly protective tariff and far-seeing ship subsidy plan are among its typical issues of the moment, for example. So is any legislation which upholds the authority of the central government against those who would break it down. The party was born of the greatest assertion of national authority the country has seen, and it has never forgotten its parentage. It was the Democratic party that yielded to union leaders in the Adamson act, and it is the Republican party that must repair that damage—has already gone far to repair it. There is confusion of issues, yes. There would be that even were there a dozen groups of every tint of radicalism and conservatism. But there is an underlying distinction which in the long run still prevails.

What The Tribune conceives to be the need of the hour is not a new party, but new and abler men in public life. Dr. Butler looks to new machinery to lift the level of American politics. The Tribune suspects that all the devices in the world would not make a better Congress of the present Representatives and Senators. Nor would Dr. Butler's plan put better men there. The new and growing spirit of independence within the parties will probably help as much as anything toward that end. Nor is that any real contradiction of the two-party system. It is simply insisting that the slowly growing political wisdom and independence of the American voters make themselves felt through the old political machinery that has grown up with our national mind and as part of our national inheritance.

On Making Sure

There is nothing like making sure where one's health is concerned. Good health is the best guarantee that Life shall be a success. Now it is well-known that digestive disorders are the cause of more cases of ill-health than any other class of ailment. The digestive system is so extensive, so complex and so hard-worked, that its liability to derangement is not astonishing. Happily, however, many digestive ailments can be easily remedied. Happily, too, many digestions need never go wrong. You can make reasonably sure that your digestion will not fail you, even under trying conditions, if you get into the excellent way of taking Beecham's Pills. This "Wonderful Medicine"—as it has been called—does really work wonders with the digestive system. Beecham's Pills impart tone to the stomach, regulate the action of the liver and kidneys and gently stimulate the bowels into healthy activity. Get into the habit of making sure. Have recourse to Beecham's Pills at the first sign of digestive trouble. Make sure of your health by taking

Beecham's Pills.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

What is Castoria?

CASTORIA is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aiding the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Comfort—The Mother's Friend.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper of genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"My patients invariably praise the action of your Castoria." W. W. Turver M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I use your Castoria and advise its use in all families where there are children." J. W. Dinsdale, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"During my medical practice I know of several cases where your Castoria was prescribed and used with good results." K. Morgner, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"Your Castoria is the best remedy in the world for children and the only one I use and recommend." Agnes V. Swetland, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"Your Castoria is certainly the greatest remedy for children I know of. I know no other proprietary preparation which is its equal." B. S. Schwartz, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

"I have used your Castoria as a purgative in the cases of children for years past with most happy effect, and fully endorse it as a safe remedy." H. D. Benner, M. D., Philadelphia, Pa.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

South China Athletes Coming Here In April For Final Workouts

Dr. J. H. Gray, Secretary of the Committee that will select the athletes who will represent China in the Far Eastern Games in Japan next May, received notification yesterday that Hongkong and Canton are combining forces in preparing for the Olympic Games and will send a large company of athletes to Shanghai to compete in the final try-outs here at which China's team will be chosen.

This word is sent by Mr. A. E. Dome, who is the Hon. Secretary of the Hongkong Amateur Athletic Federation, who says that the number coming from the South will be 85, 44 from Hongkong and 41 from Canton. This big delegation will include Basketball, Volley ball, football swimming, tennis, and track and field teams, and also two ladies who will play in ladies championship are to come.

Mr. A. C. Peabody who is shaping arrangements in Canton is co-operating with Mr. Dome in the plan to send teams to Shanghai.

The Southern delegation will leave Hongkong on April 28 next on the President Grant arriving in Shanghai on April 30. Plans outlined call for a week of strict training before the final try-outs are held here. At this try-out meeting here between North and South athletes who will represent China will be selected.

The team representing China is to leave not later than May 14th, for Japan, so that a week will be given for training in Japan before the games open.

Doctor Gray is leaving on Monday for Wuchang to attend the Hupoh Provincial Athletic Association meet that will take place at Wuchang next Friday and Saturday on Wesley College Field. While the Hupeh Association meeting is in progress the Chin Wu Athletic Association at the same time is conducting a meeting with purpose of raising a fund of $10,000 to form a national athletic organisation. This meeting is also held as celebration of the fifth anniversary of the Chin Wu Association of Wuchang.

EMPLOYERS ARE HOSTS TO DR. EDDY AT UNION CLUB

Famous Speaker Delivers Addresses At Nanyang And St. John's

Dr. Sherwood Eddy and his brother Dr. Brewer Eddy were guests at a dinner given to Chinese employers by Mr. C. C. Nieh at the Union Club Monday night. The guests included those interested in cotton, silk, sugar refining, dye works and lace industries. After dinner Dr. Eddy gave an address emphasising the industrial unrest in all parts of the world, analysing some of the underlying causes and appealing to employers in China to profit from the experience of the West and to address themselves to the task of treating labor in such ways that the task of production will be co-operative in a true sense.

The employers present showed themselves much interested in the message of Dr. Eddy and the various questions raised were the subject of free discussion in which all took part freely.

This was the second meeting that Dr. Eddy has had in Shanghai with employers, the first being with foreign employers on Friday evening. In both of these gatherings the employers showed themselves alive to the situation and interested in doing something that will help labor in China to come to a better place and to enjoy advantages that have not been enjoyed during the past few years of modern industry in this country.

Dr. Eddy had a busy day yesterday with an address in the morning at St. John's University, one of the speakers at the tiffin given by the American University Club and the American Chamber of Commerce at the Carlton and in the evening giving the third in a series of addresses at Nanyang College.

The addresses to students in Shanghai as in other parts of China have not dealt so much with the industrial question as with the present day needs of China and the responsibility of the students of this generation to measure up in moral character so as to be ready for the larger duties of the morrow. "Students in Shanghai as in all parts of China have responded," Dr. Eddy says, "in a remarkable way, to the appeal for higher things and show themselves ready to study seriously and to prepare themselves for the larger work that lies before in this great nation."

The Parlow Concert

BY PHILIP KERBY

Miss KathleenParlow, the English violinist, gave a concert last Sunday afternoon at the Olympic Theater.

It was one of the greatest concerts ever given in Shanghai by any soloist. The fact that the large audience warmly appreciated her playing is of little consequence, because Miss Parlow was playing for her own enjoyment, and that of her mother, her severest critic.

How many violinists have we heard who are technically perfect but lack the spark of genius. Without that spark their performances are dead and lifeless, but with it they are something akin to life itself.

Miss Parlow not only has that spark, she has something more which is sometimes called personality, and sometimes magnetism. Call it what you will, it is that indefinable something which cannot be described, only felt, and she translated it to the hearts of the audience through her violin.

Her tones were full and colorful with all the strength of a great master, and yet she glided with easy grace into the leiter motifs with a woman's gentle touch. Miss Parlow's program, evidently chosen with great care gave a great range for her abilities.

Paganini's "Concerto in D Major" was her opening selection. It comprises all the requisite for consummate artistry inasmuch as the third part is played principally in double harmonies, allegro, with a climax that is vibrant.

Vitali's rather sombre "Chacone" followed, much of which is written in a minor key. Miss Parlow's broad bright harmonies delighted the audience and she graciously played Kreisler's "The Old Refrain" as an encore, the air, of which, seldom leaves the G string.

In the "Hebrew Prayer," by Acron, Miss Parlow's ability to simulate the throbbing wail of a nation in anguish was manifest to a degree. Her bowing was excellent.

The complete antithesis of the foregoing was Motzart's charming Rondeau and Kreisler's "La Gitana" which followed. The gentle staccato melody of the former contrasted beautifully with the Gipsy Tszardash of the Tziganes. It was not necessary to shut the eyes to see the wild nomad dancing across the Hungarian plains taunting her lover with a scarf of love. The "Moto Perpetuo" of Bridge with the same lilting refrain returning over and over again, with subtle variations, concluded this group. Miss Parlow gratified the insistant applause by playing as an encore Paderewski's famous "Minuet."

Chopin's Nocturne and Wiemansky's Airs Russes concluded the concert but the audience refused to allow Miss Parlow to depart until she played the "Serenade Espagnol" by Cheminade.

Mr. Theodore Flint, who played Miss Parlow's accompaniments on the piano sustained the great artist throughout her remarkable performance, with marked ability.

Miss Parlow's many friends in Shanghai have tried to pursuade the great artiste to give another concert before her departure for Peking. The sincere ovation given to her Sunday should be sufficient reason for her acceptance, and it is hoped that she may accede to the demands for a return engagement either now or upon her return.

Tuesday Night's Concert

A Russian pianist, Mr. Paul Vinogradoff was introduced to Shanghai music lovers at the Town Hall concerts last night, playing the first past of Grieg's piano concert with orchestra. Among those pianists who come to visit us he certainly excels. His musical ability is beyond question and his technique fabulous. The public cheered him with enthusiasm and it may be hoped that when he gives a recital on Saturday evening, as is rumored he will find a crowded house. Mr. Paci and the orchestra assisted him splendidly.

Another event of the program was a suite for strings by P. Juon. This composer, who is Russian by birth, studied in Berlin, so his style is an interesting blend of Russian and German, under the influence of Brahms.

A great pleasure was to hear again the symphony militaire by Haydn and the whole concert may be regarded as one of the best this season.

It may be mentioned here that on Sunday afternoon we heard a violin recital given by Kathleen Parlow. She is no doubt the greatest woman violinist of our days and the recital one of the best we ever heard, her playing being masterly in every respect.

—G. Zalman.

Caledonian Ball

The Annual Caledonian Ball of the St. Andrew's Society will take place tonight at The Town Hall beginning at 9:15 p.m. The Caledonian Ball is one of the big social events of the year and larger crowds than ever are expected this year.

The Committee of St. Andrew's Society wish to bring to the attention of all those attending tonight the following suggestions in regard to the regulations governing the Ball and hope that Guests and Members will do their utmost to co-operate with the Committee and Stewards, as by this means the arrangements, already made, will run smoothly and make for the comfort of all concerned.

In the first place, the Council's Notification No. 3002 in regard to the ranking of cars, will be in force and as the Committee understand this is more or less the first real test for this regulation, intend to do their utmost to make same a success. Motor cars will rank in Thibet Road, and direct telephone lines will be installed between the Town Hall (inside the Main Entrance) and the Thibet Road Rank, by which means the cars will be called. There will be police on duty at both ends of the wire with necessary attendants with megaphones for calling the cars at Thibet Road. Owners of cars are therefore requested to make a careful note of their car numbers as this number is to be used and not to use the Carriage Ticket as issued by the Committee, also to instruct their chauffeurs to be on the look out for the Police call. They should also be ready themselves for their car when it comes along. Users of Hire cars will kindly make arrangements so that they know the numbers of these cars, which will be allowed to rank in Kwangse Road by Sincere's. Owner driven cars will park on the west side of Kweichow Road, South of Nanking Road close to the Town Hall.

The Admission Tickets will be required, being the detachable slip on each ticket and this will be asked for at the door.

Ladies cloakrooms will be in the main hall, those for gentlemen downstairs at the entrance.

Regarding Supper arrangements, the Committee has decided that this year the whole of the Main Hall will be for dancing and that suppers will be served in the two rooms situated between the Main Hall and the Revolver Range. That accommodation is not by any means sufficient for the members who will be present which means there will be several sittings and the Committee ask that the instructions of the Stewards be followed, thus preventing crowding at the door, which will be opened immediately the President and his party have been seated. The President's party will proceed to supper at 11:45 p.m. immediately after the 8th dance.

The Society is fortunate this year in having the assistance of 3 Pipers and 3 Drummers in addition to the Municipal Band and the Hayes Bros. Jazz Band. The Scheme of decorations has been left in the able hands of Messrs. C. W. Porter, R. H. Herbert, D. Macgregor and A. Y. Tait, who have been again assisted by Miss McColl.

The bands will be under the control of A. V. Monk Esq., who has arranged that the first dance is timed for 9:15 p.m. and the last for 3:45 a.m. after which "Auld Lang Syne" will be sung.

Card Rooms will be situated near to the Buffet, and "Auchtermuchty" will still occupy the same spot on the map.

Railways Urged To Aid Unemployed

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 28.—Mr. Bonar Law, Mr. Stanley Baldwin, Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Phillip Lloyd-Greame, President of the Board of Trade, Sir Montague Barlow, Minister of Labor and Sir John Baird, Minister of Transport, conferred today at Downing Street with representatives of the Railway Companies, whom the Premier invited to co-operate in anticipating construction and replacement of capital works with a view to relieving unemployment.
